Second Wal-Mart hearing planned

Board requires independent studies before considering Wal-Mart

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

A public hearing for a proposed Wal-Mart in Antioch will have its second continuance on July 11.

Residents were given the full meeting time allotment, from 7:30-11 p.m. to express their opinions about the proposal. Time ran short at the first hearing, angering residents who were anxious to be heard.

The combined planning and zoning board voted in favor of a request made Don Skidmore of the redevelopment committee for independent studies to be done, at the expense of the developer, to look at the impact to traffic and other local businesses in the area. Recommendations for acceptable consultants to do the studies will be made by the village board and will presented to the combined planning and zoning board at the July 11 meeting.

Fourth of July nearly here

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

"This year, activities will run all day long," said Karen Kubin, a member of the Fourth of July committee. "Families can spend the whole day at Williams Park up to the fireworks at dusk."

The day will begin with Run for Freedom and will be followed by the parade, sports tournaments, children's fun fair, family games, food booths, a free concert and fireworks.

"This is a great way for families to kick off the long Fourth of July weekend," added Glenda Sorensen, director of community development.

The Antioch Run for Freedom is a 5K run/walk, sponsored by the State Bank of The Lakes that begins at 8 a.m. at the corner of Cunningham and Poplar streets that will take participants on a tour of Antioch's residential streets. The proceeds will go to the Antioch Public Library for books and magazines that relate to health and fitness.

Last year, the Run for Freedom drew 1,200 runners and walkers from the collar counties and beyond. Participation was up about 200 from the previous year.

"We're at a point now where we are sophisticated enough to attract serious runners, but small enough to please the recreational runners and families that just want to enter for the fun of it," said Mary Lou Toomey, one of the event organizers.

Registration for the run/walk takes place through the morning of the race. For more information, call Toomey at 847-395-2700.

Bob Lindblad, of the Lakes Region Historical Society, has been selected Grand Marshall of this year's parade. The parade begins at 10 a.m. and will travel down Main St., beginning at Chestnut and ending at Williams Park.

Rev up for racing

Staff Reporter

Come cheer on all the hopeful racers who have chosen to participate in Antioch's third annual soap box derby after filling up on the pancakes being served at the firefighters' pancake breakfast. The race will blaze down the east side of Orchard St. on June 30 at noon.

While the race has been officially taken over by the Antioch parks department, Barbara Porch, executive director of the Chamber of Commerce and Industry has stayed with the race to make the transition smooth.

"It's wonderful that this race is going to be able to continue on," she said. "It's great family fun, and we anticipate that families will support the fire department's breakfast first and then stay downtown to watch the race."

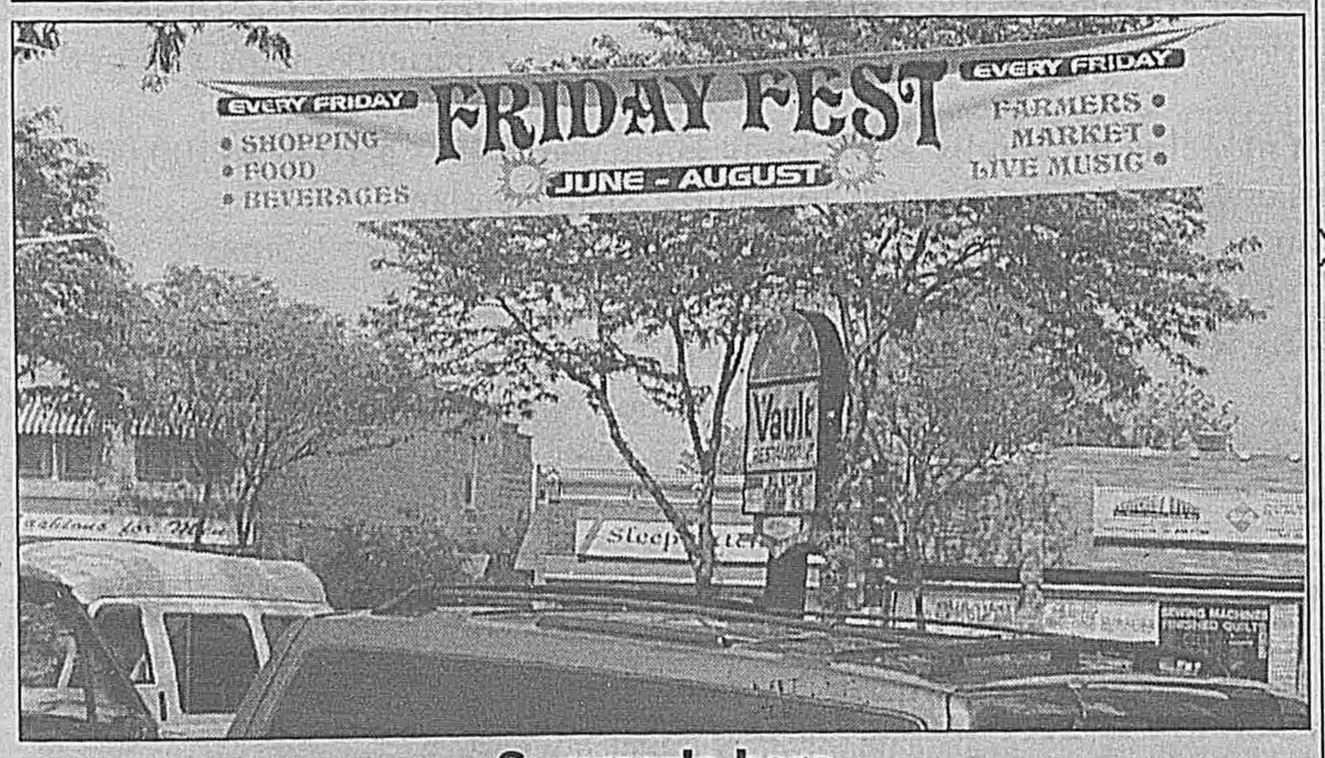

Soap box racers can be built of any material and must have four wheels. Additionally, it must be able to steer around a curve, and must start and move off of a push start.

Racing teams must be made up of two people in the same age group, one to push and one to drive. Drivers must provide their own helmets. The fastest soap box to the finish line wins.

"This event has grown each year with more and more spectators," said Porch. "The cars have varied between very simple to pretty deluxe. Some have even had professional paint jobs."

The parks department has assembled a volunteer group to run the race. Raymond Chevrolet and SpaceWalk of Antioch are sponsoring the prizes that are yet to be determined.

The age groups are as follows: adults, 16 years old and older; youth, 10-15 years old; child, 5-9 years old. The cost is $25 per entry.

Eat flapjacks with firefighters

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

In the past month, there has been about one fire per week so there is no doubt that supporting the Antioch Fire Fighters Association is a worthy cause. Eating pancakes with friends and family at the eighth annual Pancake Breakfast on June 30 from 7 a.m.-noon at the main fire station located at Orchard and Holbek is an easy way to do it.

Capt. John Lucas, president of the association said, "We use the money for training, public education materials and equipment. Money raised has helped us purchase turnout gear worn in fires, portable radios, headsets and dive rescue equipment."

The Antioch firefighter's Association will be showcasing the fire station and equipment.

Along with the breakfast there will be a raffle and prizes. Raffle tickets will be sold at the door for $1 each or six for $5.

Tickets for the breakfast will be sold at the door. Adults are $5; children between 6-12 years old are $3 as are seniors. Children under 5 years old eat for free.

DUI

Mark F. Kampman, 23, of 4215 Rigby Rd., Crystal Lake, was arrested by Lake Villa Police on June 7, at 1:45 a.m., while driving eastbound on Route 132 near Deep Lake Road. A police officer on Route 132 near Sheehan Drive paced the driver at 55 mph in a 40-mph zone. The driver was weaving. Police detected an odor of alcohol in the vehicle. The driver failed three of three field sobriety tests. He refused breath tests several times, allegedly telling police he only had two beers and two shots and didn't think he was over the limit, but thought that if he was tested he would be "screwed." He later said he had not been drinking. On his way out of the police station, he grabbed police copies of his paperwork, including citation copies and sworn reports. He said he took the papers "by mistake." He was charged with DUI and speeding. He was released on a $3,000 I-bond, pending an appearance in Waukegan courtroom C-402, on July 12, at 9 a.m.

Jessica L. Haynes, 22, of 2018 Fairfield, Lindenhurst, was arrested by Lake Villa Police on May 29, at 1:56 a.m., while driving eastbound on Route 132 near Central Avenue. Se was observed driving 45 mph in a 30-mph zone and weaving. She crossed the double yellow center line and crossed the fog line. She told police she had been drinking four Absoluts and Red Bulls. Dispatch advised the officers similar reports had come in for the same area. Police searched the nearby field behind Thompson School and found what they described as a "well-kept" tree perch, with a platform and ladder. Considering the possibility of poachers in the area, police looked for suspects or injured animals, to no avail.

Lindenhurst Police called upon Lake Villa Police to assist with the unruly arrestee. During transport, he spit into the seat of the car. Upon arrival, police discovered the rear inside door handles broken off on the floor. An imprint of a boot was found on the broken glass panel. The squad car was photographed, disinfected and cleaned before returning it to service.

Foisey was charged with criminal damage to public property, driving in the wrong lane, improper lane usage, no driver's license on his person, failure to notify the Secretary of State about an address change, DUI and DUI over .08 BAC. He was transported to the Lake County Jail to await a bond hearing.

After he made a wide turn onto Grand Avenue without signaling, police stopped him.

Possible marijuana seeds and leaves were found in the vehicle. A leafy substance in the ashtray tested positive as cannabis. Police detected an odor of alcohol. Kidric failed four of four field sobriety tests and a breath test yielded a result of .066 BAC. He said he had three beers. He was transported to Victory Lakes Hospital for blood and urine testing for the presence of cannabis. He was charged with equipment violation, improper lane usage, failure to signal and DUI. He was released on a $3,000 I-bond, pending an appearance in Waukegan courtroom C-402, on June 25, at 9 a.m.

Police observed the vehicle following another car at a distance of two feet at a speed of 53 mph. After the driver made a wide left turn and was seen drifting, she was stopped. She did not have a driver's license with her. She told police she had not been drinking. She failed five of five field sobriety tests. A breath test yielded a result of .119 BAC. She was charged with following too closely, improper turning, DUI and DUI over .08 BAC. She was released on a $3,000 I-bond, pending an appearance in Waukegan courtroom C-402, on June 25, at 9 a.m.

High school principal takes over on July 1

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

After a nationwide search, Antioch Community High School (ACHS) Dist. 117 has hired Jon Crawford to replace James Love as principal.

"Dr. Crawford comes highly recommended," said Supt. Dennis Hockney. "He has a history of success in a number of positions."

The board of education took official action to employ Crawford after interviews were conducted first by Hockney and then by an interview committee of students, parents, teachers, staff and administration. Hockney said he was even more impressed with Crawford after observing him as he interviewed with the committee than during his personal interview.

Crawford served as principal of Deerfield High School. Over the course of his career, he has also served as an elementary classroom teacher, and principal in schools from elementary through high school in both Illinois and Iowa. Additionally, he was superintendent of Father Flanagan's Boy Town in Nebraska as well as a practicing attorney.

"I was particularly impressed with the enthusiasm of Dr. Crawford to take a leadership role with the Task Force for Educational Change, the group of parents, students and school employees who are rethinking the educational process at ACHS," said Hockney.

Though Crawford won't officially begin until July 1, he has spent the better part of two days participating in the interviewing process for a new director of discipline and attendance for the high school.

"Over the summer, he'll be helping us with personnel, curriculum, governance, the handbook and working with the assistant principals," said Hockney. "In his spare time, he'll try to get a lay of the land and figure out how things work here. There will be plenty to keep him busy."

According to Hockney, when Love announced he was leaving at the end of the school year, the search began that brought in applicants from as far west as Colorado and as far east as New Hampshire.

Village approves $12.5 million budget for 2002-03

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

One month into fiscal year 2002-03, the Village of Antioch approved a $12.5 million budget.

"This is the best budget we've ever had," defended Mayor Taso Maravelas when trustees Barbara Porch and Dorothy Larson asked that the vote be postponed so that the two could further review the budget.

"We're not criticizing," said Larson. "We just got this, and want to have a little more time to look it over."

Administrator Mike Haley explained that when the money for projects coming from other sources than the regular revenues received by the village, the budget is actually less than last year's budget.

"When you subtract off the $1.5 million EPA loan, the $400,000 motor fuel tax for road repair, the $245,000 from the senior fund and the $100,000 for the skate park, we're under where we were last year (by nearly $500,000)," he said. "That's even with budgeting in $900,000 for legal fees for the Deercrest and Neumann Homes lawsuits."

Haley said there would be no money in the budget for new vehicles or anything seen as non-essential.

"I had to cut 8 percent across the boars so expenditures would equal revenues," he said. "Then when I thought about what we might need for legal fees, I cut vehicles, non-essential training and things like travel in order to balance the budget."

Though Porch and Larson still protested voting, not on the merits of the budget but because they hadn't had a chance to read through it thoroughly, Haley stressed the importance of approving the budget.

"We need this approved," he said. "We're at the end of the first month (into the fiscal year)!"

The budget was approved with four "yes" votes. Porch and Larson passed.

Further emphasizing that she had no problem with the budget itself, Larson said, "I do want to congratulate you (Haley, Maravelas and finance chair Bob Caulfield) on the good work that's been done."

Friends raise funds to improve Lake Antioch

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

"Lake Antioch is a private lake that is ranked very low in terms of clarity and quality," said Friends of Lake Antioch (FOLA) board member Marge DeBock. "Because it's a private lake, money to fix some of its problems isn't available."

The group has designated June 22 FOLA day with several activities occurring planned in an effort raise the money needed to rebuild an inlet streambed.

"Some improvements need to be made for erosion control," said DeBock. "Any money we are able to raise will be used to rebuild the inlet stream bed that has seen a lot of build up. We need something to help with erosion control."

Auto Zone, next to the Burger King on Rte. 173, has agreed to let the group hold a garage sale there from 9 a.m.-1:30 p.m. as it is located on the lake.

"Because it's a business, we're limited to the amount of time we can be there," said DeBock. "Anyone who would like to make a donation to help our cause can call me (847-395-9878) or can bring the donation by the Auto Zone between 7-9 a.m. when we're setting up."

DeBock said items not sold at the FOLA garage sale will be donated for the St. Peter Rummage sale.

Other events scheduled for FOLA day, primarily for those who live around Lake Antioch, include a fishing derby and community picnic.

The derby will be held from 8-11 a.m. in the Sunset Ridge subdivision off the docks. The picnic will run from noon until it naturally peters out, and community members should take Brian or Margaret Terrace to get there.

Those with questions about the garage sale or the other FOLA community events should call DeBock at 847-395-9878.

Farmers' market, Friday Fest finally here

OUR TOWN

Julie Murphy

After nearly a year in the planning, Antioch's own farmers' market accompanied by the daylong Friday Fest are finally here with the kickoff on June 14.

Ten unique Fridays will follow this first one being dedicated to our local heroes at the Antioch Rescue Squad, Fire Dept. and Police Dept.

The day begins at 10 a.m. when the downtown area will open in a more festive than usual manner with merchants bringing some of their special wares to the sidewalk for shopping ease.

The Lakes Area Community Band will be the highlight entertainment for the day and will take the stage at 8 p.m. with songs following the "God Bless America" theme.

The band Split Shot will get things warmed up at 5 p.m. and provide background music for the farmers' market that will be open from 3-7 p.m.

The Itty Bitty Barter toy exchange begins at 5 p.m. Parents must accompany children in making their toy trades.

Food and Beverages will be served from 5-9:30 p.m. so there is no need to go home and cook dinner.

Friday Fest will just be a warm-up for those who love Antioch's summer Arts and Crafts Faire being held on June 15-16 on Toft St. from 10 a.m.-5 p.m. on Saturday and 10 a.m.-4 p.m. on Sunday.

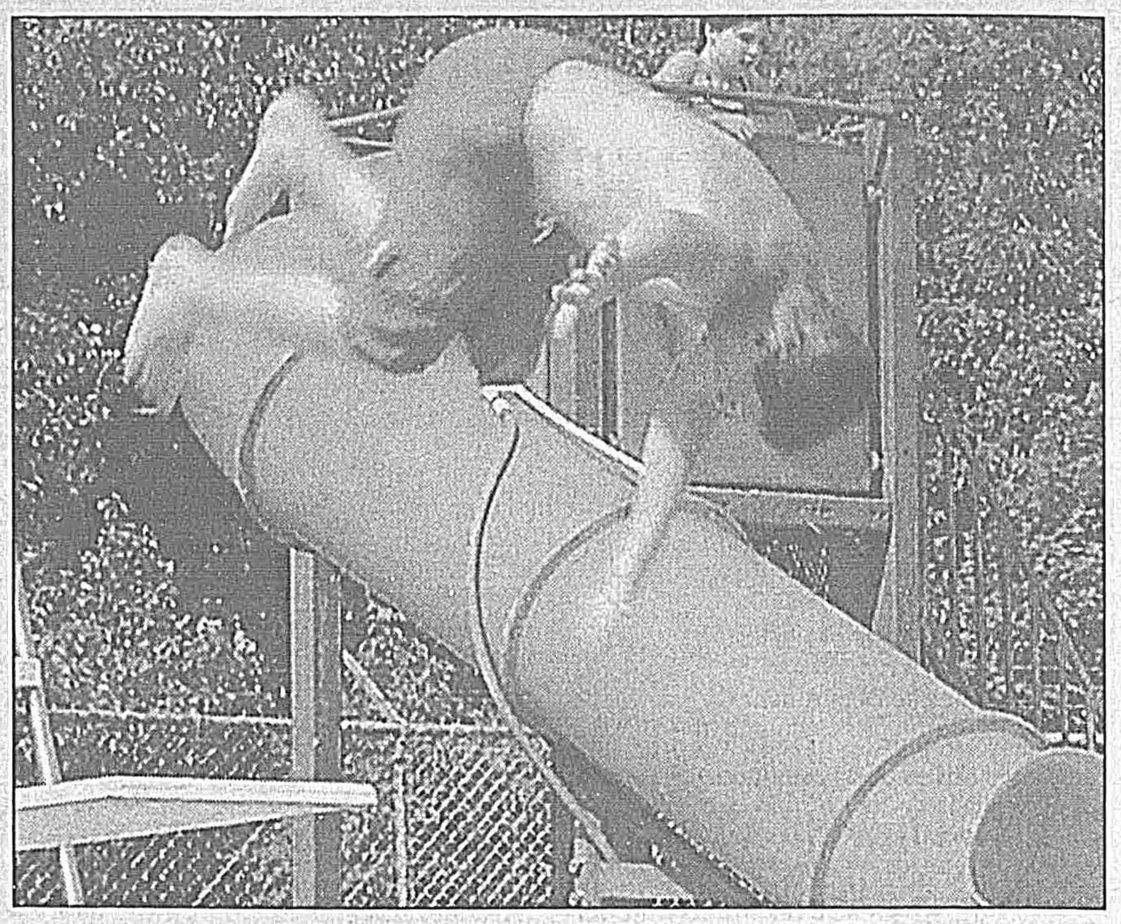

It's not a just a local crafts fair. There will be artisans and crafters from around the country.

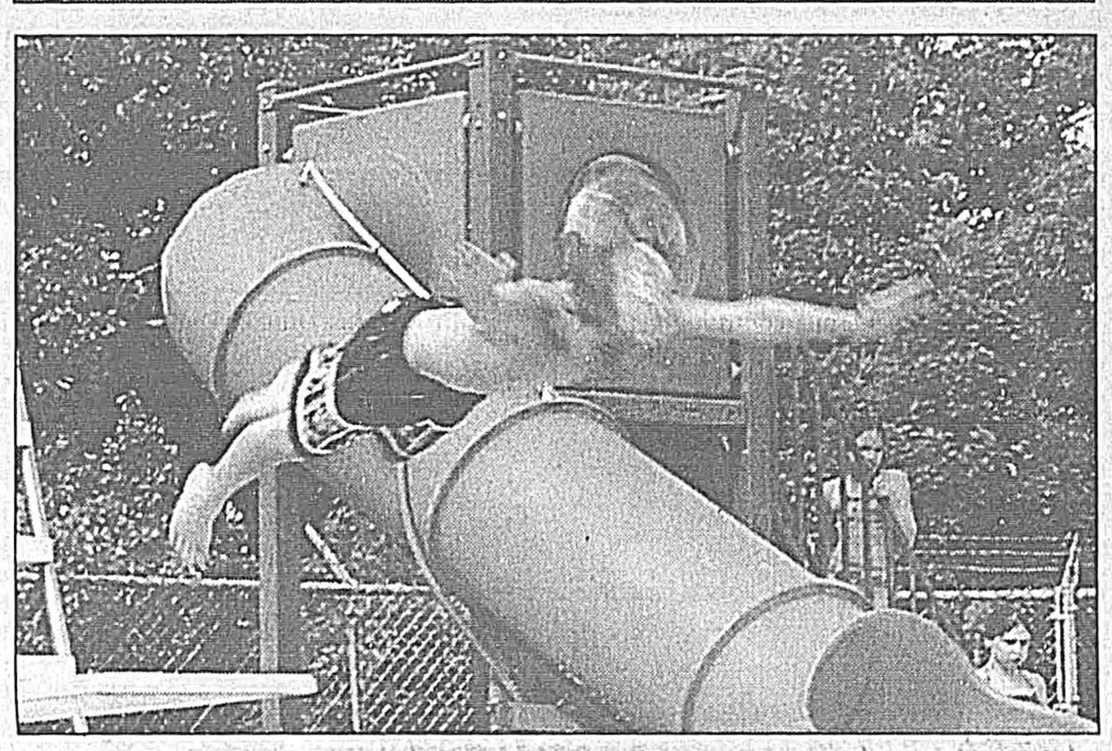

Coupons have been in the local papers that will allow people the opportunity to win $250 in Chamber gift certificates. These must be turned into merchants who are also Chamber members.

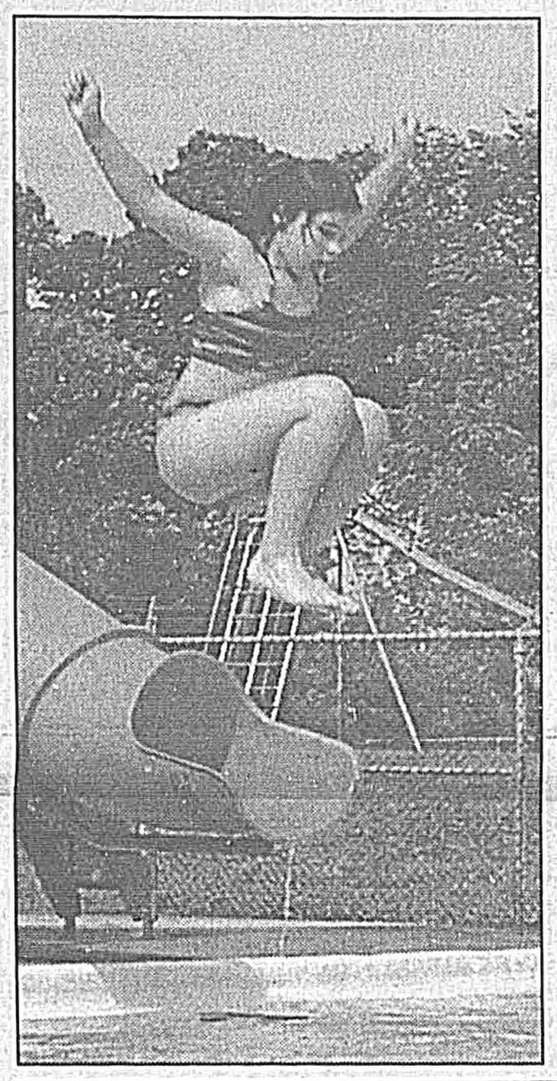

The fair has been expanded into the center of the municipal parking lot to accommodate better than 100 vendors. In addition to the arts and crafts, there has been an increase in food vendors for this year's show. Consumable products will include kettle corn, yogurt smoothies, Italian ice, hot dogs and brats and a variety of sweets.

If you have interesting information or anecdotes to submit for "Our Town" call staff reporter Julie Murphy at 847-223-8161, ext. 600 or e-mail, moorfie@ix.netcom.com

Firemen hope residents use big address numbers on homes

It could happen any time of the night.

You are awakened by your spouse who is complaining of chest pains and shortness of breath. A call to 911 summons the paramedics. The 911 dispatcher's voice is calming, and reassures you that help is on the way.

But once in the neighborhood, firemen or paramedics cannot immediately locate your house due to hard-to-read or non-existent house numbers.

This situation happens too frequently, and Fox Lake Fire Department is taking measures to reduce it.

"Sometimes, people do not have numbers on their houses at all," said Lt. Rich Good of the Fox Lake Fire Department.

Lake County has adopted the B.O.C.A. (Building Officials Code Administration) requirements for house numbers. They must be a minimum of four inches high, reflective, and cannot be in written form. This is because a number such as forty One Zsero Seventy Eight is harder to read than 41078. Fire officials state that placement of these numbers on your home can help insure a quick response, and peace of mind.

"House numbers can be obtained at any hardware store. Prices vary depending on type, and material, but can a price placed on someone's life," Good said.

The Fox Lake Fire Department staff may be reached at 847-587-3312. Questions regarding public safety, education, first aid, and CPR classes may be directed to Good.

WAL-MART

Principals said he was "dumbstruck" by the request. He added, "I don't know what sense it makes to schedule a meeting until those studies are done."

Bob Silhan, director of planning, zoning and building, suggested the mid-July date, as the consultant selection would take some time.

Board members asked no questions of the developer at this portion of the hearing as most of the meeting was spent listening to public comment. Some residents, either in person or through letters read into the record, favor the Wal-Mart proposal.

Resident Karen Carney noted that she has been a resident for 65 years and said, "I don't believe Wal-Mart will kill downtown." She added that she would like to be able to buy a pair of socks or pajamas for her grandchildren in town.

Kathy Wilson said, "I've never thought of any of the changes in the downtown area to be negative. I would rather sit in traffic in my own town than travel 20 minutes to Gurnee or Round Lake."

William Patterson, owner of BJ Sports, is not in favor of the proposal. He said, "This might be the most important decision made for the future of Antioch. The end result could change Antioch forever."

He added, "For 31 years, I served on many committees (within the village). I gave property on the east side of Main St. to the Village to use. That doesn't make me special, but it makes me committed to this town."

He said what make Antioch unique for business owners is that "we like coming and opening our doors and shaking hands with people who have been customers for years."

Much of the evening was spent on a presentation made by various members of ARRG (Antioch Residents for Responsible Growth). The group asked for a moratorium on all development until the Comprehensive Plan and zoning codes are brought up to date.

Notable in the presentation, was an overlay example of the size of the proposed development. The building itself would take the entire block that houses Village Hall, Main St. and Toft to the east and west and Orchard and Lake St. to the north and south. The acreage of the development would cover the entire downtown area.

FOURTH

Festival that will include a space walk, bozo buckets and a ball toss among other fun fair games. "This will be really special for the kids," said Kubin. "Space Walk of Antioch will be there for the first time, and there will be water balloon contests."

Other events held throughout the day include an ice cream social, bridge tournament and an apple pie baking contest.

The Family Fun Games begin at 3 p.m. and include a tug-o-war, sack races, grease pole (with a cash prize at the top), and the infamous "bowl of leeches."

"This was a very popular event last year," said Sorensen of the event that dares brave individuals to reach for money that lies at the bottom of the leech-filled bowl.

That's not the only prize to be won. Cash, T shirts and a variety of other prizes are available to those who participate in the sports tournaments sponsored by First National Bank-Employee Owned. Softball begins on the evening of July 3, but the other games are played throughout the day on July 4 and include the following: three-point basketball shoot-out, coed sand volleyball and horseshoe tournaments in addition to the crazy coed softball.

For more information about the sports tournaments or to register for participation, call Kubin at 847-838-2265.

The day will wrap up with a free concert featuring the Lakes Area Community Big Band and the Antioch Community Choir. The fireworks will, of course, be the grand finale.

Former Wauconda man living dream as an astronaut

By ROB BACKUS Staff Reporter

Ask any child what they want to be when they grow up and you will usually hear one of three answers: a sports star, U.S. president or an astronaut.

Well, for former Wauconda resident Dominic L. Pudwill Gorie, a shuttle pilot for NASA, one out of three isn't bad.

But actually, Gorie fulfilled his childhood dream over 20 years ago.

Born in Lake Charles, La. on May 2, 1957 as the son of an Air Force pilot, Dom Gorie's dream was always just to become a pilot.

"My dreams as a boy were limited to just flying airplanes," said Gorie. "Since my dad was a pilot, it was something I could firmly grasp on to."

After the death of his father, his mother remarried and the family moved to Wauconda in the late 1960s where Gorie attended Wauconda Jr. High School.

"I fell in love with Wauconda and with the lake," said Gorie. "It was a great place to grow up."

After three years in Wauconda, his family moved to Miami where Gorie finished high school.

After high school, Gorie decided the best way to become a pilot would be to attend the U.S. Naval Academy in Annapolis, MD.

"I went to the Academy because the Navy has the best pilots," said Gorie. "It's also a great school with great academics."

After graduating from the Academy in 1979 with a B.S. in ocean engineering, Gorie became a commissioned Naval Officer before being designated a Naval Aviator in 1981.

In 23 years of active duty, Gorie accumulated over 5,200 hours in more than 30 aircraft, including over 600 carrier landings, and is currently a Navy captain.

As a Naval Aviator, he began by flying the A-7E Corsair with Attack Squadron 46 aboard the U.S.S. America from 1981-83, when he transitioned to Strike Fighter Squadron 132, flying the F/A-18 Hornet aboard the U.S.S. Coral Sea until 1986.

He then attended the U.S. Naval Test Pilot School in 1987 and served as a test pilot at the Naval Air Test Center from 1988-90. In 1990, Gorie also earned his M.S. in aviation systems from the University of Tennessee.

Gorie was then assigned to Strike Fighter Squadron 87 aboard the U.S.S. Roosevelt in the Persian Gulf until 1992 when he participated in Operation Desert Storm flying 38 combat missions.

In 1992, he was transferred to U.S. Space Command in Colorado Springs, Colo. for two years before reporting to Strike Fighter Squadron 106 for F/A-18 refresher training.

In his 23 years as a Naval Aviator, Gorie received numerous medals and commendations including: the Distinguished Flying Cross with Combat "V"; the Joint Meritorious Service Medal; two Air Medals; two Space Flight Medals; two Navy Commendation Medals with Combat "V"; and the Navy Achievement Medal. He was also named the Strike Fighter Wing Atlantic Pilot of the Year.

En route to his command tour of Strike Fighter Squadron 37, Gorie was selected as an astronaut candidate in December 1994.

For Gorie, becoming an astronaut was just the next step as a pilot.

"Being an astronaut is the greatest thing you can do in aviation," said Gorie. "You're still flying, it's just the mission is a little different."

After a nine-month selection process, Gorie received the call a year later, on Dec. 7.

"I was ecstatic," said Gorie. "I just couldn't believe it."

Once he was accepted into the program, it would be three years before Gorie would be scheduled for space flight.

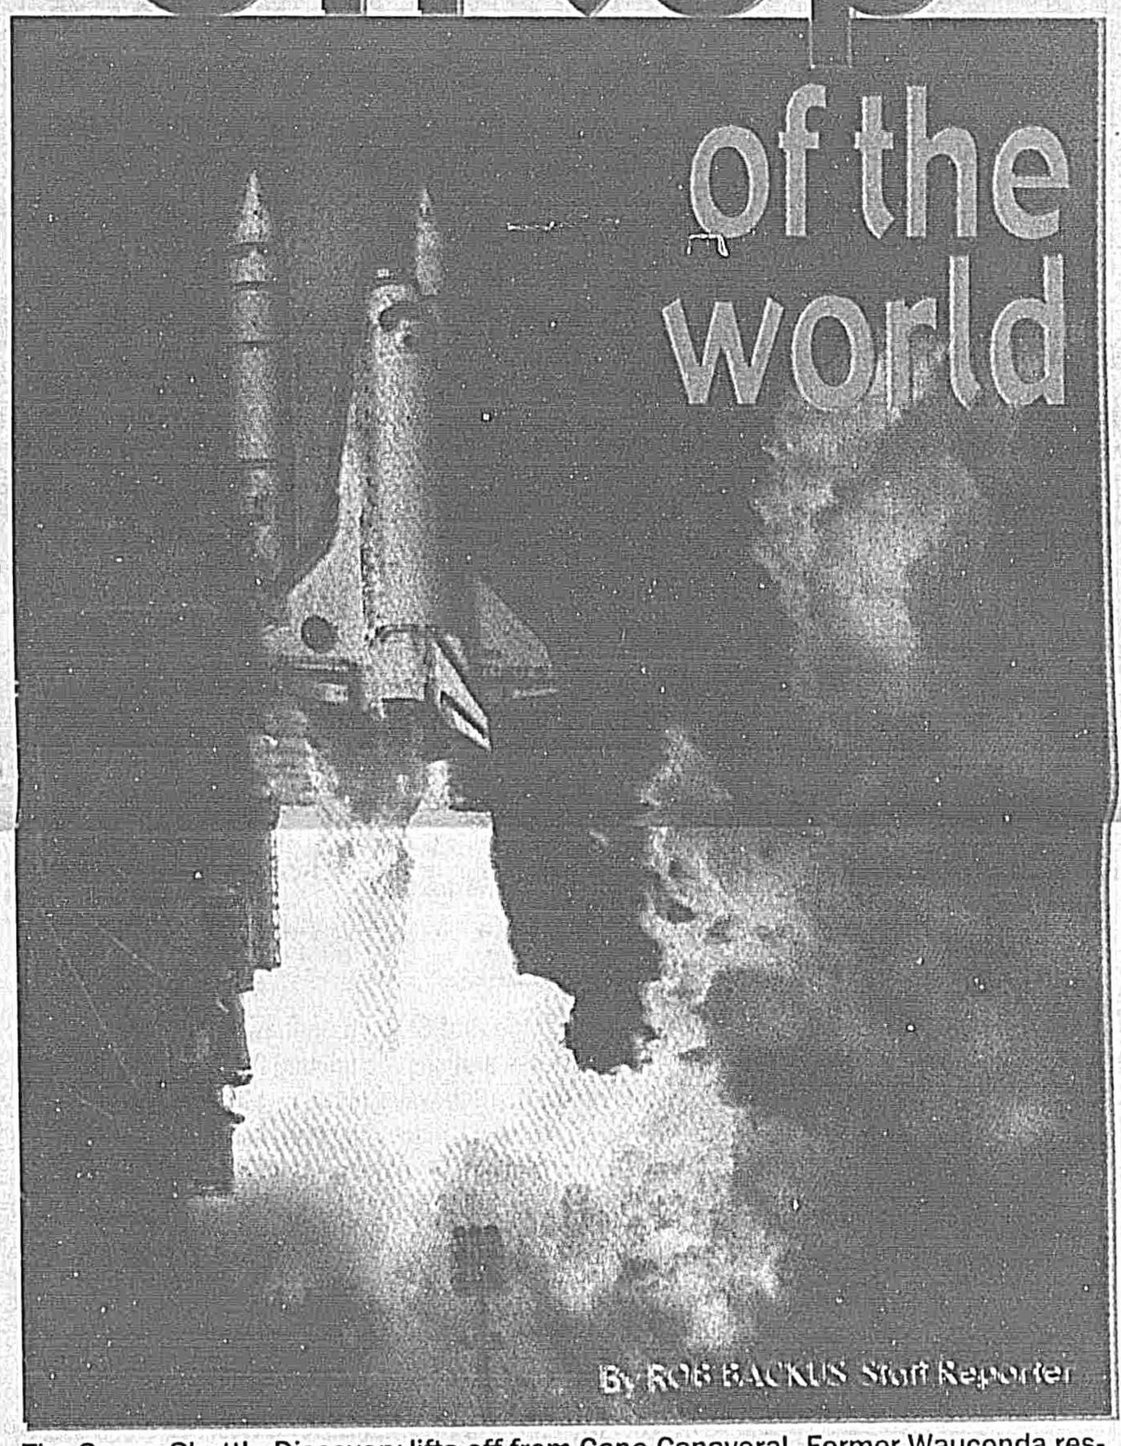

Initially, he was assigned to work safety issues for the Astronaut Office at the Johnson Space Center in Houston. He next served as a spacecraft communicator (CAPCOM) in NASA Mission Control for numerous shuttle missions.

It was then that Gorie was selected as a shuttle pilot for STS-91 aboard the shuttle Discovery from June 2-12, 1998.

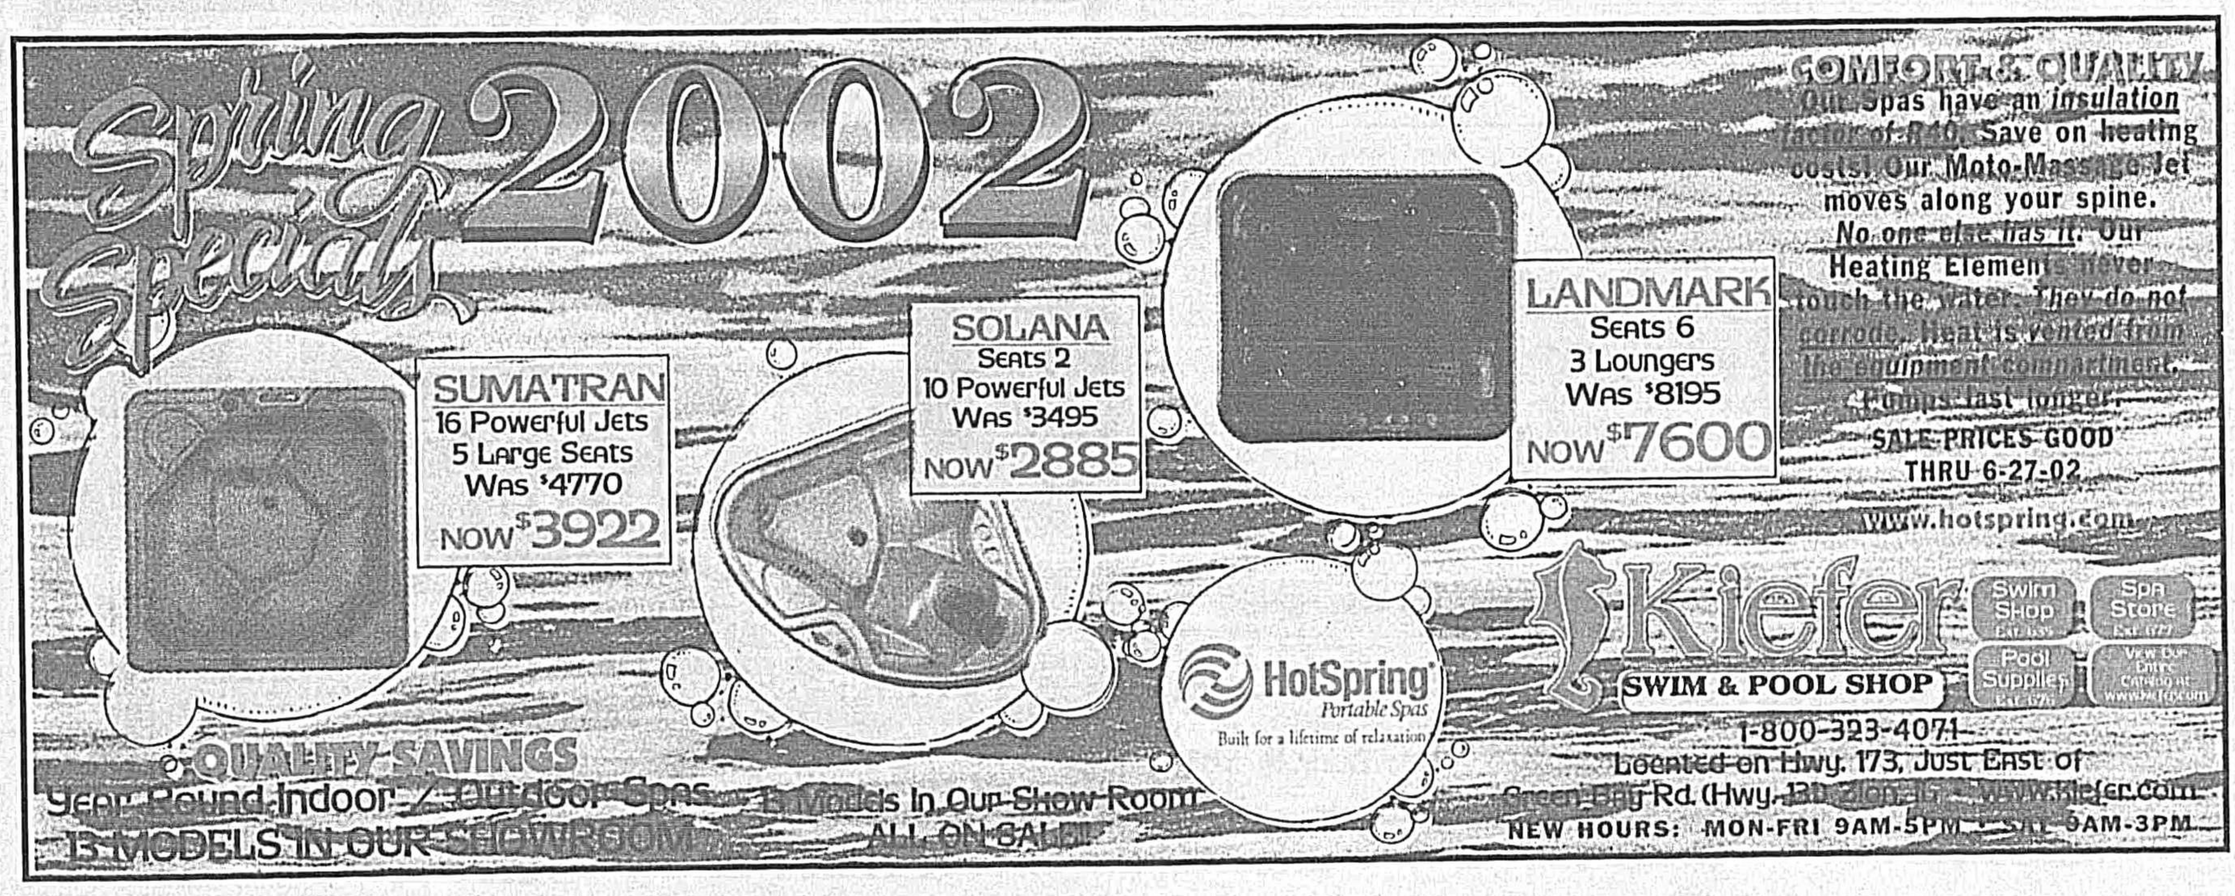

"I was just in awe," said Gorie. "It was an amazing experience the first time I was floating in zero gravity with my face in the window, watching the Earth go by."

The STS-91 mission was the ninth and final MIR docking mission, concluding the joint U.S./Russian Phase I program. It was accomplished in 154 Earth orbits, traveling 3.8 million miles

Humble potato salad comes into its own

COOKING by the BOOK

Tom Witom

For a single-subject cookbook, "Potato Salad" (Chronicle Books, 2002) covers a lot of ground. Barbara Lauterbach's collection, included in a handsome paperback liberally illustrated with dramatic color photographs, presents 50 tempting, uncomplicated recipes.

Lauterbach's recipes will work nicely for meals on steamy summer days - as well as for chilly winter nights.

She points the way to perfect salads featuring ingredients such as steak, horseradish and salmon to regional styles, from Asian to Portuguese to New England. There's even one from celebrity cook and author Jacques Pépin. We liked the German-style Nuremberg Potato Salad.

Nuremberg Potato Salad

2 pounds red potatoes
Dressing:
3/4 cup diced bacon (1/4 pound)
3/4 cup minced yellow onion
1 1/2 tsp. flour
4 tsp. sugar
1 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. freshly ground pepper
1/4 to 1/3 cup cider vinegar
1/2 cup water
1/4 cup finely chopped fresh curly parsley
1 tsp. celery seed

Cook the potatoes: In a heavy saucepan that accommodates the potatoes without crowding, place the potatoes, water to cover, and about 1 teaspoon salt per quart of water. Cover partially, bring to a boil and cook until tender when pierced, 20 to 25 minutes after the water has returned to a boil for 2- to 3-inch potatoes. Avoid piercing the potatoes repeatedly to test for doneness, or too much moisture will seep in and produce a soggy interior.

When potatoes are cool enough to handle, cut into 1/4-inch-thick slices. Place in a bowl.

Meanwhile, make the dressing: In a small skillet over medium heat, fry the bacon until just crisp, 5 to 6 minutes. Add 1/2 cup of the onion and sauté until just tender but not brown, 2 to 3 minutes. Remove from the heat.

In a small bowl, stir together the flour, sugar, salt and pepper. Stir in 1/4 cup of the vinegar and the 1/2 cup water until smooth. Taste and add more vinegar if the mixture is not tart enough. Add the flour mixture to the bacon, then simmer over low heat, stirring, until slightly thickened, 4 to 5 minutes.

Pour the hot dressing over the potatoes and add the remaining 1/4 cup onion, the parsley and the celery seed. Toss the salad by pouring it from one bowl to another until the potatoes are well coated. Serve the salad immediately or let cool, cover and refrigerate overnight, then serve cold. (Serves six)

SPECIAL EVENT

1840s Children's Afternoon at Garfield Farm Museum

Children ages 5-12 years old are invited to spend the afternoon at Garfield Farm Museum doing farm chores, playing 1840s games, making cornbread and crafts, and more, on Wednesday, June 19, from 1-3 p.m. and Wednesday, July 17, from 1-3 p.m. For two hours, children will be immersed in the life of an 1840s child. "Prairie-style" clothing is encouraged so children can really pretend they are a prairie farm girl or boy. The fee is $20 per child for the two-hour program and reservations are required. Call 630-584-8485 or email at info@garfieldfarm.org. While the children are playing, the adults are welcome to take a tour of the Garfield Farm Tavern and Inn, 1840s barns and animals for $5 each.

A large farm and business such as the Garfield family required many people to be successful. Hired hands and the Garfield's eight children worked hard every day. Farm chores were an expected part of even the youngest child's day—planting, harvesting, feeding and maintaining the livestock, maintaining fencing and buildings, cooking for the house guests, daily cleaning and gardening, canning and much more. When they did play, their games used a lot of imagination and were often homemade, such as graces, a type of ring toss, checkers, dolls, hoops, card games, spinning tops and word games.

The 1840s Children's Afternoon at Garfield Farm Museum will include a combination of activities that will be age appropriate in order to create a special afternoon of interesting educational value that will be fun for all.

Garfield Farm Museum is an 1840s Illinois prairie farmstead and teamster inn that is being restored as an 1840s working farm museum. Garfield Farm Museum is 5 miles west of Geneva at the corner of Ill. Rte. 38 and Garfield Road. Please visit the web site at www.garfieldfarm.org or call 630- 584-8485 for further information.

Tradition continues at Tempel Lipizzans' 20th season

Tempel Lipizzans, the rare and beautiful "dancing white stallions" that have attracted the attention of horse lovers from around the world, will celebrate their 20th anniversary beginning Wednesday, June 19. Performances, including a special anniversary salute to the horses and trainers, will continue every Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. and Sundays at 1 p.m., through August 28, at the Lipizzans' home in Wadsworth.

Tempel Farms is the only place in America where Lipizzan stallions regularly perform the breathtaking leaps and ballet-like precision of classical dressage, just as it is performed at the famed Spanish Riding School in Vienna, Austria.

The hour and 20-minute Tempel Lipizzan performance begins with the crowd-pleasing debut of the Farm's newest foals, frolicking friskily around the arena alongside their mares. The performance then follows the advancement of the Lipizzan breed from animated young stallions in the early stages of training, to the highly refined Quadrille or "Ballet of the White Stallions," in which four to six of the most highly trained horses perform dressage's most difficult movements in perfect and beautiful unison.

Tempel Farms is located in northern Lake County, a 50-minute drive from either Chicago or Milwaukee, near Great America and the Gurnee Mills Mall. Tickets are available at the gate. Prices are $16 for adults, $13 for senior citizens and $8 for children, ages 4 through 14. Group discounts and V.I.P. packages may be arranged by calling 847-244-5330. In case of inclement weather, performances are held indoors. Parking is free. For additional information, call 847-623-7272 or visit www.tempelfarms.com.

'Steel Magnolias'

A heartwarming tale of true friendship

When the ladies of Chinquapin, La, gather at Truvy's Beauty Salon, hair isn't the only thing that gets teased, fixed and arranged. Lives are changed, secrets revealed, and throughout all the gossip and wisecracks a strong bond of caring and love is created in this hilarious and touching comedy, "Steel Magnolias."

An award-winning off-Broadway hit and a movie blockbuster, "Steel Magnolias" is perfect for the intimacy of The Fireside stage. Here the wise-cracking Truvy, with the help of her new "glamour technician" Annelle, dispenses shampoo with liberal doses of free advice and gossip to the town's curmudgeon, Ouiser; an eccentric millionaire, Miss Clairee; and the local social worker, M'Lynn, whose daughter Shelby, is on the verge of marriage. You'll fall in love with these six Southern ladies with their nerves of steel and hearts of gold.

Directed by Ed Flesch, the production features an outstanding cast selected from The Fireside's New York auditions including Eve Johnson, star of last summer's Fireside hit "Driving Miss Daisy." The set design is by Rick Rasmussen with costumes by Robin Buerger and lighting by Joseph Buberger, Jr.

The Fireside is located on Business Hwy 26 on the south side of Fort Atkinson and includes several gift shoppes with an extensive selection of unique merchandise including many popular collectible lines and gifts for all ages and occasions.

"Steel Magnolias" will be performed nine times weekly, Wednesday through Sunday, until July 14. Dining is required for all performances with a variety of menu choices for $45.95-$47.95. Advance reservations are recommended.

Arrival times for the dinner before the show are as follows: Wednesday-Sunday, 10:30 a.m.; Thursday-Friday, 6 p.m.; Saturday, 5:30 p.m.; and Sunday, 2:30 p.m.

The Fireside Dinner Theatre is located at Bus. Hwy. 26 South, south of Fort Atkinson, Wis.

A Scottish Wedd

By PAT WEISS
Special to Lakeland

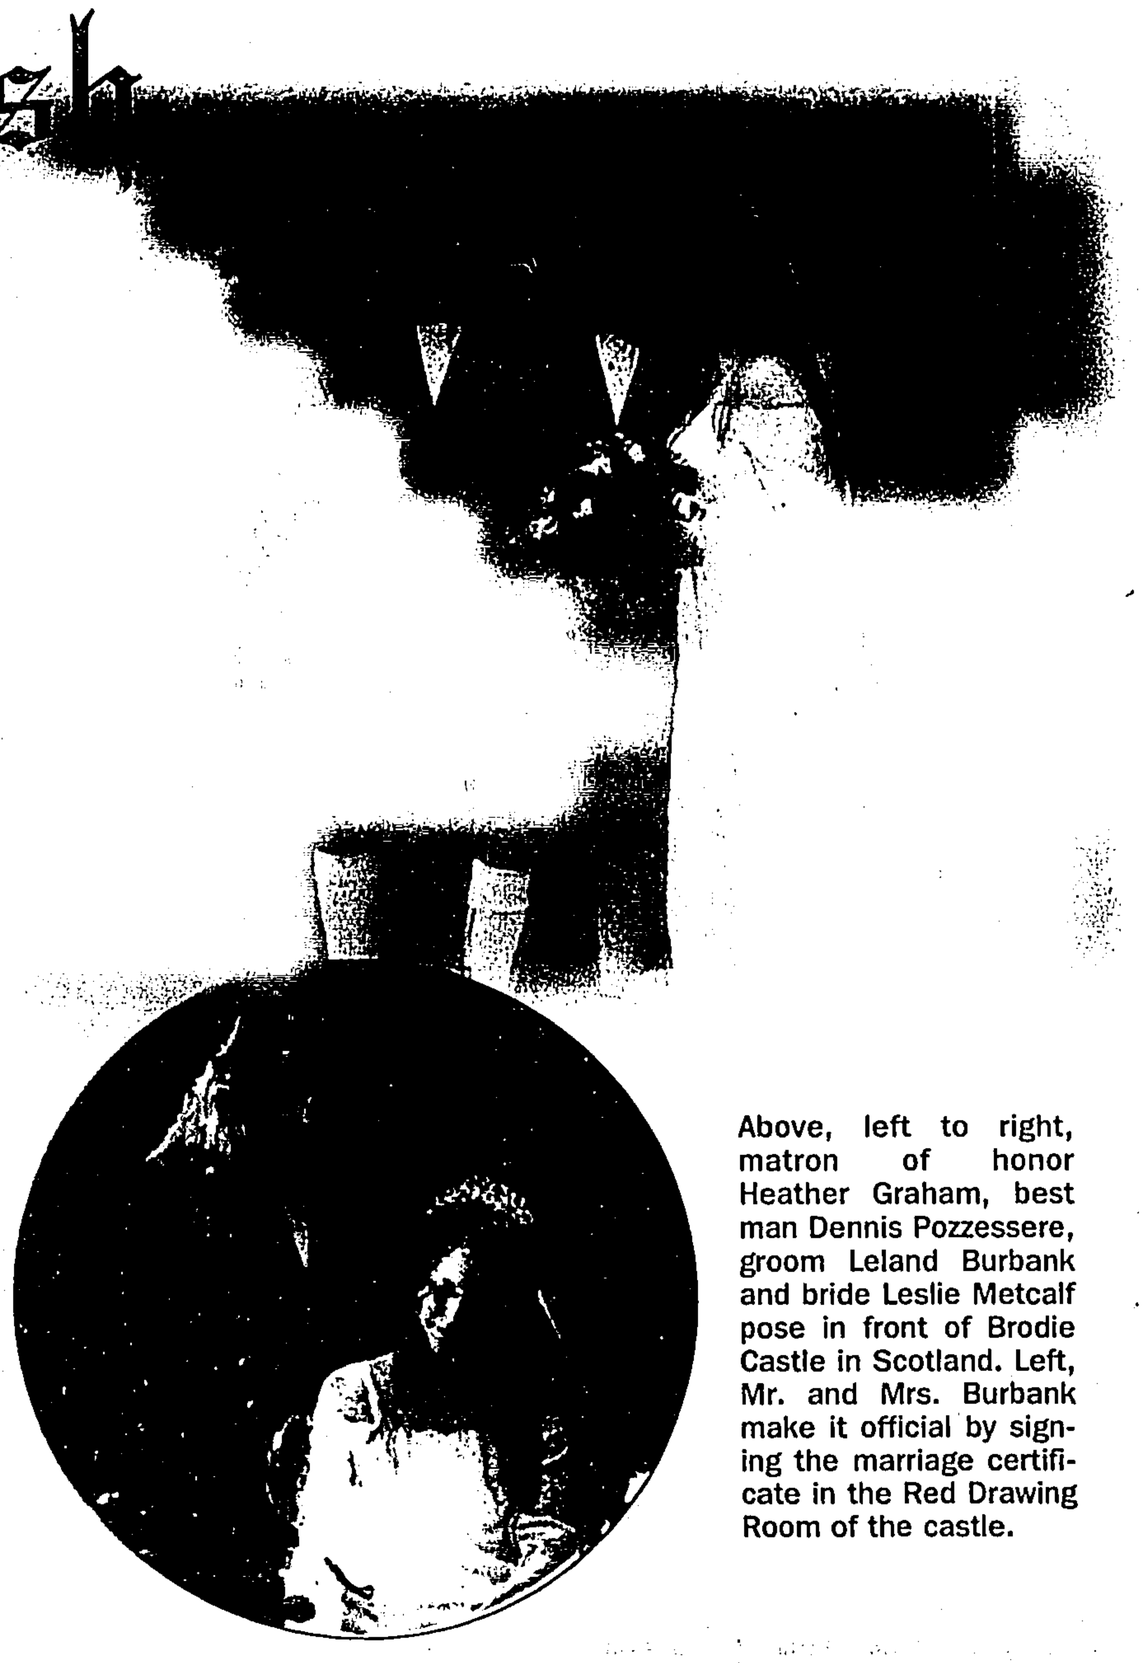

Once upon a time in a land far beyond O'Hare lived a handsome knight and his lady fair.

Leland Burbank, a popular knight at Medieval Times (and the only one in all of the Medieval Times castles to portray a knight, the king and the narrator too), an actor, model and all-around grand performer and his lady, Leslie Metcalf, a tourism specialist, model and romance novelist, have become the darlings of the romance world and seem to be the personification of romance. They have taught and performed at 'Romance Book Conventions' for some time. These annual conventions are attended by writers, readers, producers and publishers of romance novels. Years ago Leland went along with Leslie for the ride and ended up being chosen 'Mr. Romance' by the crowd. Since then they have been in demand for workshops, performances and book cover modeling. They recently posed for the cover of Heather Graham's latest blockbuster novel, "Knight Triumphant," written under her pseudonym, Shannon Drake. Their courtship is right out of a romance novel.

It was aboard a 'Romance Book Convention' cruise that Leland proposed, during a performance in front of an audience of 400 and presented Leslie with a reproduction gold 15th century ring inscribed with the words "Nous et Nul Auire" which translates into "You and No Other". This whirlwind courtship culminated in a wedding at the 16th century Brodie Castle near Inverness in Scotland. Where else would a knight be married? Lady Burrows Tours founder and Romantic Times magazine CEO, Kathryn Falk put together a tour of Scotland climaxing with the grand wedding. The tour was composed of Leland and Leslie's fans which also included Leland's parents, Wendy and Worthley Burbank of Wauconda, Leslie's parents, Mary and Ed Metcalf and long-time family friend, Pam Ficarella, formerly of Wauconda. The matron of honor was New York Times best-selling author, Heather Graham and the best man was her husband, Dennis Pozzessere. The ceremony, which included a Celtic blessing, was highlighted by the exchange of wedding rings that depicted the shields of Tara, the ancient site where the kings of Ireland were crowned. Leland also presented Leslie with an heirloom diamond ring that had been in the Burbank family for generations. Leslie's gown was designed for her especially, by well-known costume designer, Connie Perry and was composed of hand beaded fabric adorned with hundreds of tiny aurora borealis crystals. As a special tribute to her American roots, Leslie sported a red, white and blue garter offset by a rhinestone American flag. Leland, Worthley and Dennis were resplendent in Scottish kilts and black Prince Charlie jackets. Calum "Spud" Fraser played the bagpipes and piped the bride up the magnificent old staircase to the drawing room where the groom waited impatiently. Spud also piped for Madonna's wedding.

Following the ceremony, the happy couple were escorted into the Red Drawing Room for an official signing of the marriage certificate. The reception ensued at the lovely Palace Hotel in Inverness that faces the River Ness and Inverness Castle with no sightings of the Loch Ness Monster.

The tour continued after the wedding, taking in more castle viewing, misty moors and spectacular scenery. Somewhere near the Ring of Brodgar, the Today Show crew caught up with them and filmed a segment that aired on a 'Where in the World is Matt Lauer' spot. For those of you who would like to view photos of this special wedding, click on www.lesliebur-bank.com. All in all it was a truly romantic wedding, de spite stormy weather, a limo breakdown that nearly stranded the mother of the groom and her friend, and a traditional serving of the infamous ... Haggis, which produced few takers. It was filled with starry eyes, sentiment and Scottish flings. It was a 'knight' to remember ... And how else would you end this tale of a fairy tale romance except with the words ... they lived happily ever after.

Matt Damon as Jason Bourne in "The Bourne Identity."

A man is discovered floating face up on the sea in a driving rain and is rescued by the crew of an Italian fishing boat. He's been shot in the back and is nearly dead. The bullets are removed along with a capsule embedded in his hip with a Swiss bank account number. He has no identity and is affected with amnesia.

CIA Agent Jason Bourne (Matt Damon) has no memory of anything, nothing from his past or even his name. Armed only with a small amount of cash given to him by the fishing crew to get to Zurich, Switzerland, the first inkling that he's not an average guy is his martial arts response to two policeman attempting to arrest him for being a vagrant with no ID.

Meanwhile, a CIA HQ official makes inquires to his field executives, who assure him that there is no "off the reservation" agency initiative to kill deposed African president Nykwana Wombosi (Adewale Akinnuoye-Agbaje).

The Bourne Identity

Rating
PG-13 for violence and some language

Director
Doug Liman

Starring
Matt Damon
Franka Potente
Chris Cooper
Adewale Akinnuoye-Agbaje
Clive Owen
Brian Cox

One of the CIA officers, Ward Abbott (Brian Cox) will be appearing before a US Congressional committee. His Ollie North-type operative is Ted Conklin (Chris Cooper). When they converse, it's clear that Bourne failed in his mission to assassinate Wombosi and that they must both be found and assassinated, so that knowledge of the rogue mission never sees the light of day. Abbott and Conklin have a way of speaking allowing them to communicate while providing deniability and without committing perjury before Congress.

At the Swiss bank Jason discovers he has a safe deposit box containing cash, a gun, six passports and documents for multiple identities, along with a Paris address. When he realizes that he's being hunted, his CIA skills subconsciously kick into gear and he manages a daring escape from the bank. He convinces Marie (Franka Potente), a woman he had seen in the bank trying in vain to obtain cash, to drive him to Paris for $20,000.

Jason and Marie are relentlessly pursued by a variety of assassins, most notably The Professor (Clive Owen). The more Jason learns about himself, the less he likes. The action scenes are great even though his martial arts skills are a little too slick.

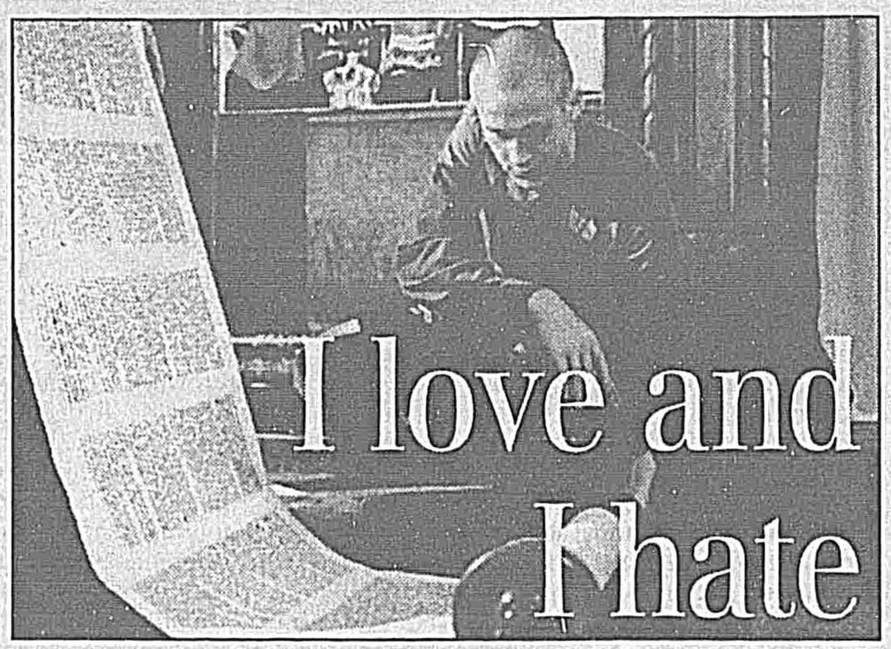

The neat Hollywood ending detracts from the film, as well as the explosion of an LP gas tank and a fall down a staircase. These contrast to the generally believable action scenes. In all fairness to the fine actors and director of this film, I'll take this with its above average acting to a "Fast and Furious" or a Schwarzenegger picture any day.

On the day George interviewed Matt Damon, newspaper headlines were digging into who at the CIA knew what and when about the events leading up to September 11, 2001. We all deserve to know certain truths about our government, which is "we the people," and we just might get it.

Ryan Gosling as Danny Balint, finding his own truth in "The Believer."

The Believer

Rating
Rated R for strong violence, language and some sexual content.

Director
Henry Bean

Starring
Ryan Gosling
Summer Phoenix
Theresa Russell
Billy Zane
Jacob Green

The Believer," winner of last year's Grand Jury Prize at the Sundance Film Festival, is a daring and provocative portrayal of a young Jewish boy (Jacob Green) who grew up to become a neo-Nazi. Before you dismiss this as wild fiction, it is a fact that some neo-Nazi's have not only known about their Jewish heritage but have committed suicide when they had to come out of the closet; usually because of an investigative reporter.

Ryan Gosling plays Danny Balint, a twenty-two-year-old skinhead, whose main purpose in life is "to kill a Jew." This performance eclipses the intensity Gosling displayed so well in "Murder by Numbers."

"The Believer" is a film that is somewhat uncomfortable to watch. Insight into self-loathing in particular and hatred in general, are provided here, usually with the threat of violence. The concept of superiority and a "you're nothing, not even human" attitude, sums up how some people can so despise others who are unlike them. Although the film does not tell the "why," which might be impossible, it does allow a look at those who hate and the affect it has on others who are just trying to mind their own business with no ax to grind with anyone else. You get an idea of what it's like to be 110% consumed by virulent hatred.

As a young boy in Hebrew school, Danny intellectually challenges his teacher about religion and Jews in the world. He envisions Jews as being almost passive during the Holocaust and uninvolved in the United States today. Of course, that notion of neutrality would challenge even Danny, in the aftermath of the events of 9/11. Churn together those "facts" and the aggressiveness in Israel, in a highly intelligent young mind and a very confused person can emerge.

Scarier than Danny and his threatening looking friends are the polished fascist couple, Curtis and Lina (Billy Zane and Theresa Russell), with their daughter Carla (Summer Phoenix). Danny's idea of being a fascist is to focus on the hatred and the extermination of Jews. Curtis and Lina think that focusing on Jews is passé. They want to spread the word of white supremacy, minus the Jew baiting, in educational seminars, with Danny as their spokesman, while reaching out to the wealthy far right in a respectable manner.

After Danny and his friends are ordered by a judge to attend "sensitivity training" with elderly Holocaust survivors, he responds to the question,

"What can we learn from you?" by saying, "Kill your enemy." For some that means with a bullet or a bomb and for others it's the written and spoken word. This may be Bean's weapon of choice, to expose the enemy's faulty logic and deadly deception of their ultimate fear of self-loathing.

'The Old Man's Friend' probes family, aging issues

CRITIC'S CHOICE
by Tom Witom

Take two busy, career-minded people and an active teen-age son, each with a full schedule. Then add the unexpected arrival of a demanding, dying father to the household, and you have a perfect formula for dramatic conflict.

James Sherman in "The Old Man's Friend," premiering at Victory Gardens Theater in Chicago, does just that. But his newest play, a fine piece of work, is anything but formulaic.

The two-hour drama, set in Chicago, mixes humor and high emotion without ever becoming maudlin.

Lily Shaw plays Susan, wife, mother and professional singer, who finds herself doing "the right thing" by taking in her cancer-stricken 78-year-old father, a man to whom she felt estranged ever since he divorced her mother and refused to pay her airfare to a tryout that launched her career in opera.

Bernie Landis is outstanding as Lenny, the untalkative diehard baseball fan who speaks in monosyllables and who finally shares some of his secrets with his 14-year-old grandson, played by unabashed Jacob Zachar. Rounding out the fine cast are Larry Neumann Jr. as Susan's husband Jeffrey and Eric Kramer as his doctor brother, Bob.

A useful flashback scene that opens Act II in "The Old Man's Friend" explores the troubles miscommunication can cause. Sherman, a prolific playwright known for such successes as "Beau Jest" and "The God of Isaac," also ties together his theme through discussions between Jeffrey and Bob of the subjectivity or objectivity of how one perceives the truth.

Another effective shift in the storyline has the overburdened Susan, by now at her wit's end, hospitalized for tests of a suspicious growth.

Eventually, father and daughter come to an understanding and reconcile in a heartwarming scene.

Mary Griswold's simple revolving set gets the job done nicely, moving efficiently from hospital room to family room to dining room, and Dennis Zacek's focused direction keeps this tidy drama humming.

See "The Old Man's Friend" through July 6 at 2257 N. Lincoln in Chicago. For ticket information call 773-871-3000 or visit the web site ticketweb.com

Ice Cream man coming to Chicago

Getting paid to eat ice cream every day might sound too good to be true, but John Harrison's tasty job really does exist! In fact, Harrison's talented taste buds provide the final word on which new flavors debut in the freezer aisle each year. Besides tasting 180 plus million gallons of ice cream throughout his cool career, Harrison has also developed many of Edy's mouth-watering flavors.

Harrison, official taster for Edy's Grand Ice Cream, will make a public appearance on Thursday, June 20 from 2:30-3:30 p.m. at Jewel Food Store, 1224 S. Wabash in Chicago.

Harrison, whose talented taste buds are insured for a cool $1 million, was once a rookie in the ice cream industry — but, fortunately, someone gave him a chance to try out his dream job 20 years ago. And this summer Harrison is offering ice cream fans an opportunity to enjoy their own "Rookie Moment— a once-in-a-life-time chance to do something they've always wanted but never thought they'd have the opportunity to do.

Harrison will offer sweet advice to local Chicago ice cream dreamers who would like to scoop up their own real life "Rookie Moment" a once in a lifetime chance to win the opportunity to do something they've always wanted to do. Whether they dream of riding an elephant under the Circus Big top, imagine singing back-up for their favorite band or simply daydream about another "big break," Harrison is searching for ice cream enthusiasts who would like to be plucked from the sidelines to land in the spotlight where they will have their wish granted by Edy's Ice Cream for one day.

Best of all, Harrison will also teach Chicago ice cream fans the art of "swirling, smacking and spitting" while he scoops up a preview of this summer's Rookie* 2002 ice cream line-up (Blue Ribbon Chocolate Cake, Vanillaberry Bar and more!) The Rookie lineup are five new flavors that were rescued from anonymity (plucked from the hundreds of flavors that never make it out of the test kitchen each year) and given their own once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to move from the sidelines to freezer aisles nationwide.

Stay posted at a freezer near you.

Gorie was then a part of STS-99 aboard the shuttle Endeavour from February 11-22, 2000.

The STS-99 was an 11-day flight, during which the international crew aboard Endeavour worked dual shifts to support payload operations.

The Shuttle Radar Topography mission mapped more than 47 million miles of the Earth's land surface. The STS-99 was accomplished in 181 Earth orbits, traveling over four million miles in 268 hours, 38 minutes.

It was during Gorie's next mission, the STS-108, that he was selected as Mission Commander.

"I ran the whole shuttle flight," said Gorie. "It was an even better experience to lead."

The STS-108, aboard Endeavour, ran from Dec. 5-17, 2001, and was the 12th shuttle flight to visit the International Space Station (ISS).

Endeavour's crew delivered the Expedition-4 crew and returned the Expedition-3 crew.

The STS-108 also called for the unloading of over three tons of equipment and supplies from the Raffaello Multi-Purpose Logistics Module and for a space walk to wrap thermal blankets around ISS solar array gimbals.

The mission was accomplished in 185 Earth orbits, spanning 4.8 million miles in 283 hours, 36 minutes.

Gorie is currently scheduled to go up again sometime in early 2004 and is currently the safety officer for Endeavour and the ISS.

Gorie presently lives in Houston with Wendy, his wife of 21 years, and his two children Kimberly (15) and Andrew (12). He and has no immediate plans after NASA.

"I enjoy the job and Houston is a great place to live," said Gorie. "I'll never be able to top what I'm doing now. With NASA, everything is focused on making life better for everyone on earth. It's a great experience and I consider myself one of the luckiest people on the planet."

Happy Father's Day!

NEWS-WORTHY

Sharon Westbrook

An eight-year-old boy asked his father, "Dad, would you punish me for something I didn't do?" "Of course not," replied his father. "Good," said the boy, "because I didn't do my homework."

A little girl was showing her friend her new house. "Here's my daddy's den," she said. "Does your daddy have a den?" "No," answered her friend, "my daddy just growls all over the house."

A father was looking over his son's report card. "Son, one thing is certainly in your favor. With these grades you couldn't possibly be cheating."

Young son: "Today in school, a boy said I looked just like you." Proud Dad: "And what did you say?" Son: "Nothing. He was a lot bigger than me."

Dads deserve thanks

Being a dad isn't easy. In addition to holding down a full-time job, a father has to maintain the cars, fix things around the house, mow the grass, and help chauffeur the kids. With many women working outside the home, often dads will help with cooking, cleaning, laundry, and grocery shopping. Do Dads get the thanks they deserve? Probably not. Father's Day doesn't get the publicity that Mother's Day does. Why is that? Perhaps, Dad was the disciplinarian and maybe a little harsh at times. Maybe he just wasn't around that much because he was busy providing an income for his family. Truly there are dads that shirk their responsibilities, but many take their job as a father seriously.

Thanks, Dad!

My Dad was a hard worker at his job and around the house. He taught me to play fair, be a good sport, and never cheat. He was always my best Scrabble opponent. My Dad had a unique sense of humor. He was always telling jokes and loved playing practical jokes. One of the best things a man can have up his sleeve is a funny bone! Patience is a virtue. It was my dad who taught me how to drive. Commitment is a word many people are afraid to use. My Dad was committed to my Mom for 63 years of marriage. He took the words 'til death do we part" seriously. Together they weathered the storms of life.

Was my Dad perfect? No. But I do believe he tried his best. I am grateful I had the chance to thank him for being a good Dad before he died.

Don't miss your chance to show appreciation for your dad. Father's Day is this Sunday, June 16th. You will be glad you did!

Gotcha

It was hard to figure out who won this friendly battle. On one side, there's Jim Panther, who retired at the end of this baseball season after 30 years at Libertyville High, 20 as head varsity baseball coach.

But then, there's the other side-the entire Libertyville community.

While it's commonly known that Panther has won oodles of ballgames, it's perhaps been his prank-playing ability that's set him aside for many others.

This battle began years ago. Almost everyone associated or who has crossed paths with the Illinois Hall of Fame coach has at one time or another been a victim of Panther's shenanigans.

Whoever's side you were on, numerous stories were revealed at Panther's retirement send-off at Mickey Finn's in Libertyville last week.

"He was always making you flinch," said Jim Schurr, who takes over head coaching duties after serving as Panther's assistant for four years.

Sophomore coach Bo Schaefer echoed, "I work out in the mornings and Jim would torment me in the shower—he'd pour ice on me. Instead of showing pity, he'd just sit there and laugh. He's definitely crazy."

Former Libertyville varsity boys coach Max Sanders shared a vivid memory of Panther and his genuine love for umpires. Ah, right.

"At a game in Woodstock, the ump was making bad calls," recalled Sanders. "Jim looked at him (the ump) and said, can you throw me out for thinking. The ump said no. Jim then said, I think your (expletive)."

So even when Panther was serious, he was funny.

But back to the pranks. After numerous little hits on his players and the LHS staff in general, Dean Sally Howe proudly recited a time when the coach got his just deserved.

"We had him going," said Howe, while playing a tape of the incident. "It was a few years ago. We had a supposed coach call him saying he was from down south and that he had a great prospect of a player coming to this area. He fell for it for several days."

That 'supposed coach' pretending to be from the south was Bob Roth, currently an assistant baseball coach at Grayslake and a friend of Panther's.

Prankster or no prankster, Panther's accomplishments at Libertyville, though, are unparalleled.

"I think the thing that stands out most as far as my being around him was when he got his 500th win at home against Stevenson last year," added Schurr.

Head football Coach Randy Kuceyeski was joined by several others in presenting Panther with a framed jersey from the coaches Major League playing days with the Texas Rangers. Fitting way to send the coach off to Fort Myers, Fla. In style.

Clarification: There was some minor confusion with regards to the Lakelife story on the Lake County band LyZ last week.

Brothers Stan and Brian Shook had a hand in forming the band over eight years ago. While the group collectively pitches in, Stan, of Round Lake, writes a lot of the lyrics while playing the bass guitar. Meanwhile, Brian, a resident of Genoa City, Wis., writes most of the group's music. He plays lead guitar, along with James Conner of Antioch.

Norton, Hall to carry talents to Rock Island

By JOE PRUSKI
Correspondent

The Augustana College football team's web page lists determination and hard work as the inspiration for the team's success. In former Antioch High School football players Jeremy Hall and Ray Norton, the team will be getting exactly what they want.

Hall and Norton have chosen to attend Augustana College in the fall, where they will both be members of the Vikings football team.

While at Antioch, Hall served as team captain his senior year, as well as being named Second Team All-Lake County, and an Honorable Mention All-Conference selection. He also earned the Jason Bolton Award for outstanding achievement and desire. Previous winners the Bolton Award include Conrad Adkins, Dan O'Connell and Jeffrey Petersen.

"I think I can add a lot of enthusiasm and determination to the program," said Hall. "They (Augustana) are a great team already. I just hope to be a good addition."

With a dismal 2-7 record last season at Antioch, Hall stood out as one of the bright spots.

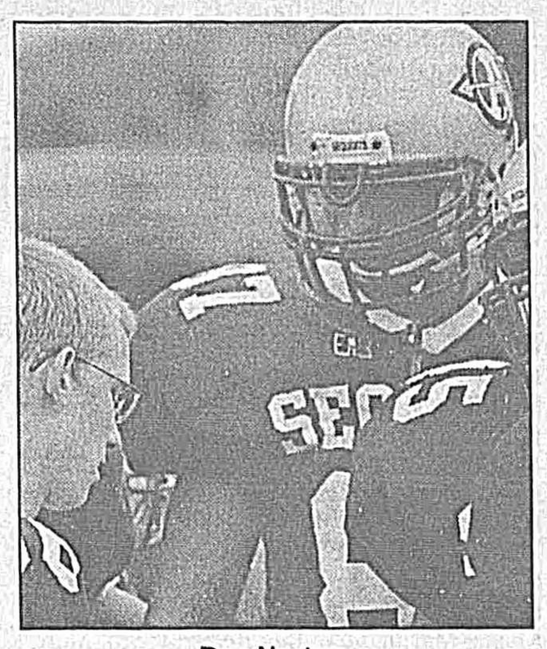

"He (Hall) is not easily frustrated," said Antioch Defensive Coordinator Mike Gordy. "We didn't have the benefit of a good season last year, but I can't recall a time when he ever looked like he was out of a game."

According to Gordy, the 6-foot, 2-inch 230-pound defensive tackle possesses a great deal of strength, as well as having exceptionally quick feet for a lineman.

Meanwhile, Norton, a 6-foot, 7-inch 225-pound defensive end, was a two-year varsity letter winner for the Sequoits. He finished his senior season with 38 tackles, seven of which were for a loss, four sacks, two forced fumbles, and a pass deflection.

Jeremy Hall, No. 59

Ray Norton

"Ray is a pass rusher. He gets good air under his feet and it's hard to throw over the top of him because of his large frame," said Gordy.

According to Gordy, a strong work ethic is what got Norton to the point he is at now.

"He (Norton) is an individual success story," said Gordy. "If you saw him in the hall his freshman and sophomore year you saw a tall skinny kid that looked fragile. He spent a lot of time in the weight room and did a nice job bulking up."

Gordy also said that great pride can be taken in the fact that any former players move on to the next level.

"You always like to see your kids go to college, you never want to see a kid miss out on that," said Gordy. "As a coach, you know you did OK because you didn't screw the game up for them. They want to continue to play because they love the game and have fun playing it, and you feel good about that."

Augustana continued their strong tradition of football excellence last season. The Vikings finished 10-2 while winning the College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin (CCIW) for the 19th time in school history. It also kept their streak of 22 consecutive winning seasons intact, while making it to the second round of the NCAA division-3 playoffs.

One big happy family at Carmel golf classic

By JOHN PHELPS
Sports Editor

Because of the usual warm atmosphere that tends to circulate around Carmel High School in Mundelein, alumni are quick to return to their alma mater.

But at the Carmel Golf Classic last week at Midlane Resort in Wadsworth, there was more incentive for them. The school happens to be celebrating its 40th year of providing an excellent Catholic education to its community. This was the 10th year of the annual golf classic.

"It's a great time—alumni come from all over the country," said Jim Herchenbach, one of the golf committee members and a 1976 grad of Carmel. "It's like a fraternity at Carmel. And everyone associated with Carmel loves giving back to the school."

Carmel was, in a sense, like a fraternity from its opening in 1962 until 1988. Only boys attended until the school became co-ed in 1988.

"This is family all the way," said Carmel President, Sister Mary Fran McLaughlin, BVM. Sister McLaughlin has been at Carmel for six years. Her department was largely responsible for running the golf classic.

"This was the first time I've played in the outing, let alone golf itself," she said. "I though I did pretty well. We had a lot of fun. But that's what this is all about. It's a great way to gather alum, parents, past and present—the extended Carmel family, so to speak."

Kevin Calcaterra, special events coordinator for Carmel's development office staff, was especially pleased with the turnout of 216 players.

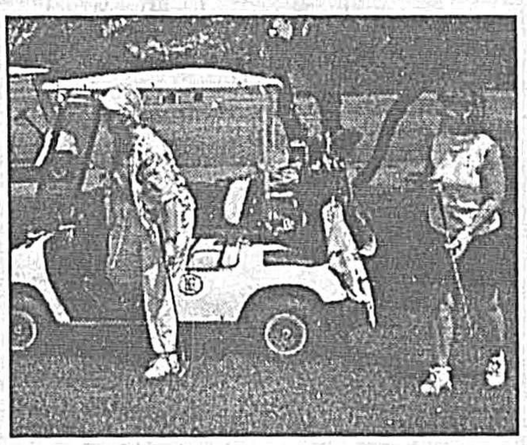

"Last year, we started combining alumni weekend with the golf classic," said Calcaterra, who just finished his first year as director of development. "Obviously we had a great turnout and Midlane does a fantastic job, from the food to the layout."

Carmel varsity boy's head basketball coach Joe Molloy enjoyed a day in the sun, despite his sub-par play in the event.

"I'm terrible, but it was certainly a great day for golf," said the coach, who just completed his second year at Carmel. "It's really neat to see some of the incoming freshman out here and everyone telling them, 'you're going to love it at Carmel'."

Calcaterra said last year's event raised over $18,000 and that this year, figures look pretty similar. All proceeds go towards improving the athletic department and facilities.

"These types of events help fund the program and equipment, for instance," added Calcaterra. "It's a great way to help keep costs down compared to what we charge students who attend Carmel."

Among contest and award winners included: John McLaughlin for the straightest drive; Jenny Meade for women's closest to the pin; Mike Clements for men's closest to the pin; Jennifer Guido for women's longest drive; Julie Corrigan for women's longest putt; and, Andy Mariani for men's longest putt. Clements was also part of the winning team. He joined forces with Michael Gavigan, Mike Gavigan and Rudy Magna, Jr. in shooting 12-under-par 60 in the scramble format.

Along with Herchenbach, the golf committee also includes Carmel alumni and co-chair's John Graham ('86) and Nora Kelly ('83).

In addition to the golf outing, the weekend also included a reunion and celebration for alumni on Carmel's campus. Mass, cocktails, dinner and dancing were part of the festivities.

This year, Carmel was also named winner of the Blue Ribbon for Academic Excellence for the third time. Only four schools in the state are awarded this honor every year. And Carmel is one of only a handful of school nation-wide that has won it three times.

Seems only fitting, huh!

Residents to be heard about Wal-Mart

Antioch—A public hearing for a proposed Wal-Mart in Antioch will have its second continuance on July 11. Residents will be given the full meeting time allotment, from 7:30-11 p.m., to express opinions about the proposal. Time ran short at the first hearing, angering residents who were anxious to be heard.

Enrollment increases, space decreases

Gurnee—As the enrollment numbers for Warren Twp. High School grow, the administration formed a second Instructional Space Committee. With an expected increase of 428 students in the fall, Warren will house an estimated 3,564 students, almost at its 4,000 student capacity soon and could reach the 5,000 mark before too long, said District 121 Superintendent Dr. Robert McKanna.

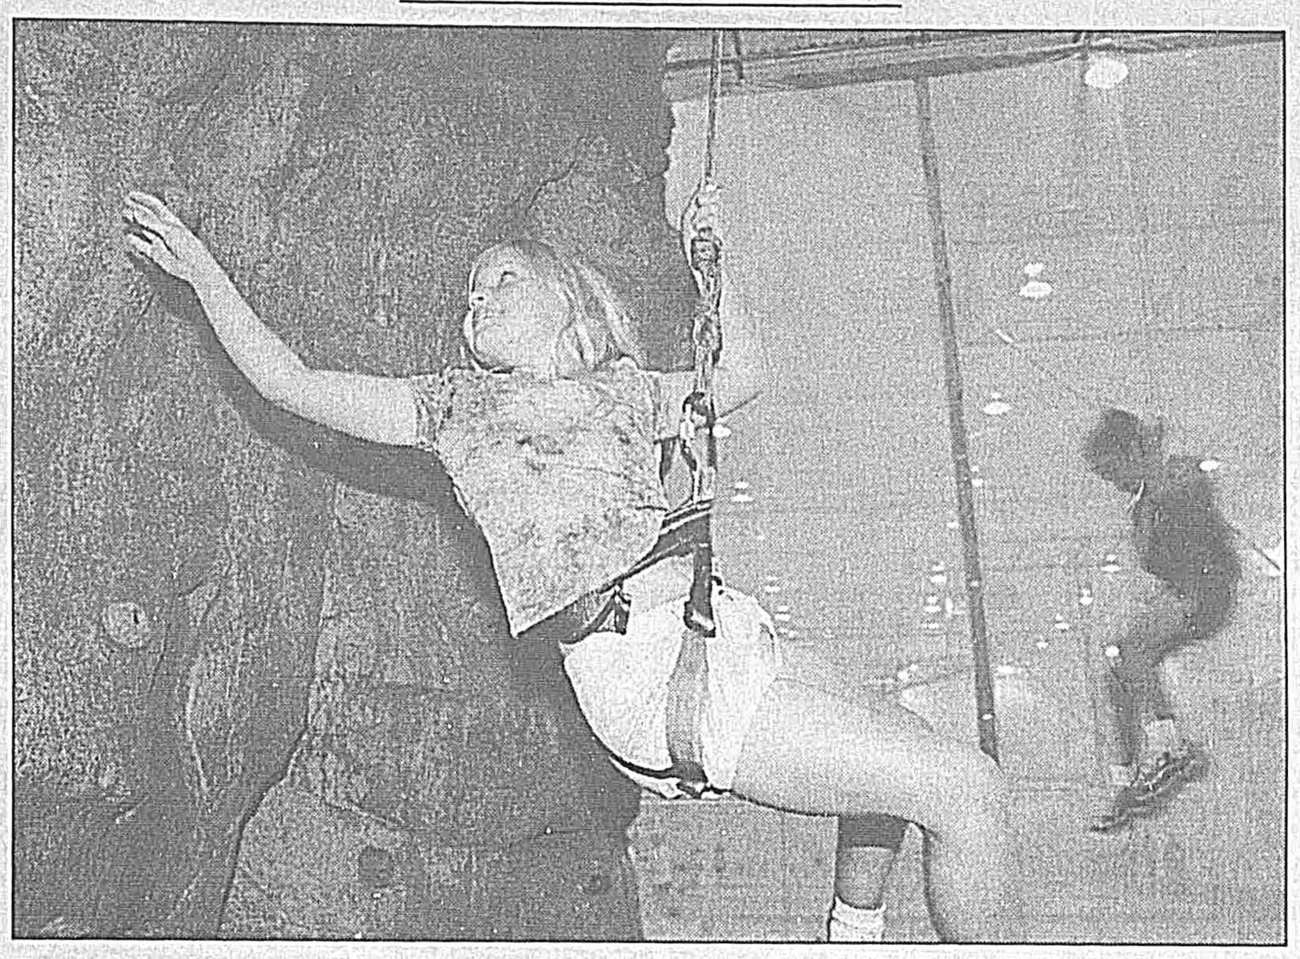

Traffic nightmare for Rollins Road

Round Lake Beach—Starting on June 21, Rollins Road will be blocked off between Route 83 and Hainesville Road. The reason for the untimely closing is a railroad wants to install a new concrete crossing and fix the rails. The road will be closed for approximately six days. Local traffic will be re-routed from Hainesville Road to Washington Street and Route 83.

Westlake Academy gets a lake view

Grayslake—Westlake Christian Academy, currently based in Gurnee, has a new home. Grayslake School District 46 approved a recommendation from the staff to lease Lakeview School to the academy, which provides Christian schooling for grades K-12.

College aid cuts will affect area students

By MARC JENKINS
News Editor

Free state money that students have been counting on for years is dwindling up and will start affecting Illinois students, especially those who stay in school more than the traditional four years.

While not officially declared 'dead,' the Monetary Award Program—as much as $4,968 given to students annually to help defray tuition and book costs—will face its first decrease in over 20 years and will probably not be an option given to fifth-year students.

Gov. Ryan's office is also said to be ready to cut another $35 million in aid on the college and university-level as well.

That potentially affects more than 100,000 state students qualfied to get the money, looking elsewhere to help pay for an education.

"I'm going to have to just take out a loan," said Sharice Branch, a College of Lake County student, who received a MAP grant last year, but not for the 2002-03 school year. "I was hesitant to add another class, but I have to."

Brian Pomeroy, CLC's director of financial aid, said the cuts won't have a drastic impact on its students. The only real change is that the deadlines to apply for state money will probably be moved up from early December to late August, forcing students to make enrollment decisions quicker than they had to in the past.

"It is a concern for us," Pomeroy said. "MAP grants at CLC cover as much as the whole term ($660 for 12 credit hours). When the economy is down, people go back to school to better their education and increase

Vernon Hills—Village police charged three individuals in connection with a forgery investigation. Officers responded to the Baxter Credit Union, 400 Lakeview Parkway, on a report of a subject trying to cash a fraudulent $3,578 check. Arrested were Edison Dotison, 42, of Chicago, Fred A. Richardo Sanchez, 22, of the 300 block of Marlene Court, Wauconda, was sentenced to 10 years in prison for his role in the Nov. 8, 2000 case at the June 4 court hearing. He had pleaded guilty to charges of criminal drug conspiracy. A third person, Renee Gonzalez, had plead guilty to possession of a controlled substance and was sentenced to 24 months probation. Gonzalez could give testimony against the other two defendants if prosecutors wish.

Another Metra station will step up Libertyville's role

Envision rural station as a new transportation hub

By DENYS BUCKSTEN
Lake County Editor

Ground was broken on June 7 for Libertyville's third commuter railway station, but the buzz has been going on for years.

The $2.7 million station serving the Milwaukee District North Line, is at Route 137 and Harris Road, and is expected to open in early 2003, with a simple platform to start, and a full station to come later.

The coming station platform, and then a station itself, will intersect with an older Libertyville Prairie Crossing station, about one-fifth mile away, which serves the Metra North Central Service.

The two railway lines intersect, forming a triangular parcel of land which will contain, upon being built out, several hundred parking spaces, the station houses, a restaurant, and possibly retail and office space.

Libertyville's third and oldest station is at 200 W. Lake St., along the Milwaukee District line, but Libertyville officials have for years sought relief from the commuter traffic congestion feeding into the station.

The hub, developers believe, will allow area residents great flexibility in railway commuting, including 35 minute express trips to O'Hare International Aiport.

With two stations operating, Metra officials say that up to 50 trains daily will be available to commuters.

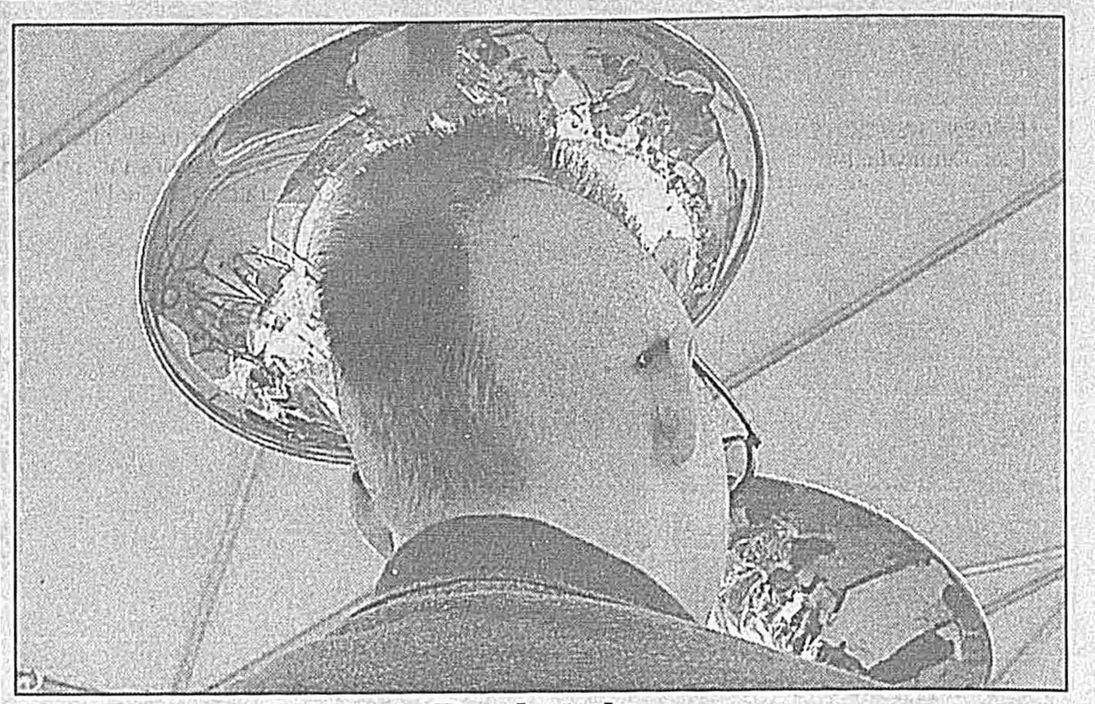

George and Vicky Ranney, the couple who developed the environmentally conscious Prairie Crossing subdivision, nearby the planned station, envisioned the transportation hub years ago. Prairie Crossing totals 675 acres, including 230 homes and 350 acres devoted to open space.

George Ranney said Chicago Metropolis 2020's projections are that an additional 1.5 million people will come into the area in the next 18 years, with an increase of a similar number of vehicles.

For Lake County officials and planners, gridlock has been a reality for the past 10 to 15 years, and getting people to park and ride is no longer an environmentally friendly idea, but stark necessity.

"The second station is going to make all the difference," said Vicky Ranney, "because now there are just not enough trains on the North Central to make it convenient for people.

"Because both lines end up at Union Station (in downtown Chicago, people could go to work on one and came home on the other, depending on what is convenient."

their marketability. We don't want to see them lose that money."

Pomeroy said CLC's tuition will go up $1 per credit hour in the Fall '02 semester, which will not be covered by MAP grants. But that's not nearly as bad a hit as some other students will take like those at Columbia College, where a fifth-year student will be forced to find another way to pay for almost $5,000 of a $12,079 tuition.

About 985 of CLC's 16,210 students this year received MAP money, of which about 90 percent got the full $660 per semester, Pomeroy said. That includes George Kessler, now taking a summer class before he heads back to SIU in the fall.

"It would cut my aid in half," Kessler said. "I'm going to be (at a loss) trying to find another way to replace the money."

OBJECTION

make nominations had not met in the district, which is required by law.

However, State Senator Terry Link told Churchill in a telephone call that he was going to testify under oath that the committee had indeed met in the district.

"Based on his statement and as a matter of legislative courtesy I told him there was no sense in dragging him to the hearing and withdrew my objection," said Churchill.

"We are now going to have a spirited campaign. Mrs. Armstrong has committed to me that she wants a high level campaign. She said she will not permit any mudslinging. We will discuss the issues on the highest intellectual level, which is what the people deserve."

Armstrong, chair of the Communities United for Better Education committee, was ecstatic that she will be on the November ballot.

"This is my first victory for the people and the Democratic process. I'm grateful that no additional taxpayer money was wasted by my opponent pursuing elimination of the competition. Now I can focus on what is really important — our community," said Armstrong. "I am really excited about going out and meeting neighbors and hearing new ideas for our district. I am honored to be a candidate in the community and look forward to the next five months."

District 62 is one of three new legislative districts formed in Lake County as a result of the 200 census. It runs from Gurnee west to the Fox Lake-Ingleside area and takes in most of the greater Round Lake area, Grayslake, portions of Warren Township, Third Lake, Hainesville and parts of the Lake Villa area.

Libertyville Sports Complex open business

By DENYS BUCKSTEN
Lake County Editor

Alexandria Dahlstrom, 6 of Hainesville, took on the rock climbing wall at the June 8 opening of the Libertyville Sports Complex with minor trepidations.

"It looked sort of fun and I've never rock climbed," she told Lakeland Newspapers.

Asked what the experience was like, she said "I know it's sort of high up, but I knew I wouldn't fall because I had ropes (and each climber is secured in a harness).

"I was scared though when I actually slipped off the rock because it felt at first that I was going to fall and crack my head open. But the rope caught me. So it was really fun.

And, was it worth the frights? "It was fun," concluded Alexandria. "But, at first I wasn't real confident in myself that I was going to even go up one rock because there were different shapes of rocks to hold and to step on. The circular rocks were the hardest to climb because I couldn't grip on them as much. The faces ones and the sharp ones were better to climb on and hold."

The $25 million sports complex, one of the largest of its kind in the U.S., is located at the northeast corner of Route 45 and Peterson Road, south of Grayslake and on the northwest edge of Libertyville. The LSC's major areas are: a golf learning center with miniature golf and a two-deck driving range, a family entertainment center and the indoor sports center, with a fitness club.

The sports complex does offer' versatility of services. When the Round Lake Park District Teen Camp had a field trip rained out on April 11, said counselor Shannon Antone, "we called them up and they had us come over here."

The upshot is that Teen Camp's 35 children ended up playing soccer on the LSC's indoor soccer field, complete with fake grass and even fake dirt that kicks up under running and sliding feet.

Shuttle concept grows in interest

The bugs have been taken out of Shuttle Bug service and the system of connecting Metra rail commuters with their places of employment with a shuttle bus has proved its mettle. Monday marked the beginning of the newest Shuttle Bug which links the Deerfield Metra station with employment centers along Milwaukee Ave. in Lincolnshire and Buffalo Grove.

Shuttle Bug in various forms has been operating since 1996 in south Lake County. With a steady ridership of about 2,000 per day, the program, designed to answer suburb-to-suburb congestion and reverse commuting, has attracted national attention. A number of the region's largest employers now have Shuttle Bug service. CDW Computer, W.W. Grainger, Hewitt Associates, Siemens, Discover Financial are among the big name job centers with "bug" service. All in all, 35 companies now are part of the "bug" network.

The system works because private industry picks up major portions of the tab for the service, sometimes up to 50 percent. The remainder of the cost is covered by grants from Metra and the federal government.

Both private industry and public transportation officials appear to be delighted with the growth of shuttle bus service. Not only does it reduce congestion on the highways, but the Shuttle Bug provides the last "leave the driving to us" link to entice residents of northwest Lake County population centers to seek employment in the county where drive times now exceed an hour or more for communities as near as Libertyville, Mundelein, Grayslake, the Round Lake area and Fox Lake due to highway congestion.

Shuttle Bug is a creature of the Transportation Management Assn,, a consortium of business and government.

With continuing success, there's a good possibility that new Shuttle Bug routes will be added. A feasibility study already is shaping up for shuttle service on the North Central Line from Wheeling to Mundelein.

The way things are going, "bugging out" will denote the way you get to work rather than playing hooky from your job.

Pro ball interest eludes county

Lake County remains on the outside looking in even as professional baseball continues to grow in the collar counties and suburbs. What, are we more interested in soccer? Or curling?

For the officials and civic leaders in our corner of Illinois who keep tabs on such things, be aware that the Joliet JackHammers have taken to the field this year, making the fourth professional baseball team in the metro area. The JackHammers, playing home games in a sparkling, $27 million publicly financed stadium, have joined pro teams cavorting in Kane County, Schaumburg and Crestwood, a Cook County community.

Together, the four teams could draw a million or more fans this year. That's a lot of folks cheering on the hometown favorites. But a lot of revenue is at stake, too. The JackHammers expect revenues in the neighborhood of $4 million with $400,000 going to the host city. You'd think there would be enough interest in these parts to field a Lake County team with those kind of revenues in the offering.

In truth, serious looks at professional baseball as a Lake County enterprise have been taken. About 15 years ago an investment group got as far as taking a business plan to Major League Baseball where upon the Chicago Cubs dropped a black ball under the provisions of territorial guarantees. The JackHammers and the Schaumburg Flyers exist because they are members of the Northern League, which is not affiliated with MLB. The Crestwood Cheetahs are sort of a souped up semi-pro team which puts them beyond the reach of major league dictates.

More recently, interest groups in Waukegan and North Chicago inquiring into a Northern League franchise stumbled over stadium requirements. Members of the limited partnership that owns the JackHammers forked over $1 million to the Northern League for their franchise and put $1.5 million into stadium construction. Professional baseball obviously isn't for the faint of heart.

Still, the thought of a Lake County professional baseball franchise is intriguing. Northern League officials, we're told, liked the demographics in our territory. Who's ready to step up to the plate with the next baseball try? We think fans are ready for a local team.

VIEWPOINT

Arming pilots matter of choice

BILL SCHROEDER
Publisher

Giving choice a chance, the fine old-American tradition of deciding for yourself, might be the best way to prevent airliner hijackings by terrorists.

Instead of a federal government mandate forcing pilots to be armed, give airline captains and co-pilots the option of choosing whether they want to fly armed.

Then give the passengers the right to choose whether they want to fly on a plane with an armed or unarmed cockpit crew.

Pretty simple idea. It shouldn't be all that complicated to announce in advance whether or not one of the pilots or both pilots are packing heat. No more complicated than all the phony baloney procedures disguised as security the flying public endures.

Can't you just hear the preflight announcement. "Good morning ladies and gentlemen. Captain Ferguson is armed with a .357 Magnum, the most powerful handgun in the world. First Officer Fincutter's weapon of choice is a .38 caliber chrome barreled Smith & Wesson, two friends who always can be relied on in a fight. Your pilots are proficient in the use of their weapons and they are prepared to cope with any unauthorized persons trying to interrupt our scheduled flying time of one hour and 47 minutes to Memphis. Thank you for flying Safety First Airlines and enjoy your flight."

If you're dubious about the effectiveness of armed pilots, check out a rerun of "Magnum Force," a Clint Eastwood classic. As Inspector Harry Callahan, Clint donned a pilot's uniform and impersonated an overseas pilot handling terrorists holding a jetliner and passengers hostage. Taking the left chair, an in-control Eastwood had the big jet roaring down the runway when the co-pilot asks, "Can you fly this thing?" Clint replies with a stoic "Nope" and jams on the brakes, knocking a gun toting terrorist off balance. The terrorist is overpowered and Clint turns his attention to a companion who is lurking at the rear of the airplane. A few rounds from the trusty Magnum aimed at a partition drops a dark-skinned, bearded wild man to the floor. A vintage Eastwood moment.

Sorry to give the story line away. Almost forgot. Through clenched teeth, Inspector Callahan admonishes some nosy passengers before firing, "Get down." They probably were checking to see whether Clint was employing justifiable force or unfairly stereotyping the armed intruder.

Better services

Starting Tuesday, the Mexican Consulate located in Chicago will be "hitting the road" to bring consular services directly to people living in the suburbs. Waukegan will be one of four stops in a series of four-day sessions. Most of the business will involve immigration matters. The temporary local consul centers will eliminate the necessity of Mexicans traveling to the city to obtain documents.

Office closed

Without any fanfare, the local office of the Lake County Transportation Improvement Project (LCTIP) in Mundelein has closed and activities transferred to 2700 Ogden Ave., Downers Grove, Ill., 60515. A joint effort of the Illinois Dept. of Transportation (IDOT) and the Illinois State Toll Highway Authority, the project was designed to gather information and focus attention on the need for the controversial Route 53 extension into central Lake County. Final efforts of the Mundelein office involved producing a draft environmental study and a preferred arterial alternative. Documentation still is wending its way toward the Governor's office where the final decision will be made. In case you're wondering, the local office was vacated April 1.

Hollywood setting

Management of the renovated and remodeled Crowne Plaza , Route 83, Mundelein, is borrowing from Hollywood to celebrate the official opening Wednesday, June 19. Instead of a grand opening, the introduction is being billed as a premier. Opening night floodlights? Transformation of the former Holiday Inn has been more than a year in the making.

One man's family

Granddaughter Nikki, 5, is just about there for that childhood rite of passage—transitioning from training wheels to the two-wheeler. But not quite. And she's got bruised and skinned elbows and knees to prove that more practice is needed.

PARTY LINES

PARTY LINES, THE LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS' COLUMN OF POLITICAL OPINION, IS PREPARED FROM STAFF REPORTS.

Sheriff beefing up Long Grove patrols

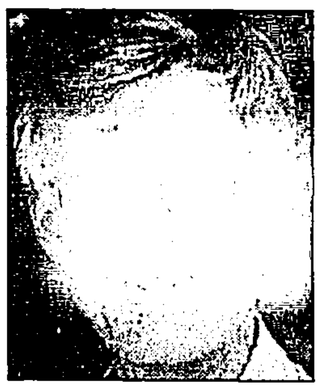

Even though the village of Long Grove doesn't have a police department, Mayor Tony Dean has public safety high on the community agenda.

Trustees approved a budget increase for additional patrols provided by the Lake County Sheriff's Department through a contractual agreement. Extra effort is being put into establishing Neighborhood Watch programs.

Two trustees, Ted Lazakis and Susan Klein, studied response times to make sure sheriff's policing was adequate. Dean said extra patrols will be assigned during peak demand times.

Low budget

County Board Chair Suzi Schmidt (R-Lake Villa) prides herself on running low budget campaigns. But she still can use financial help so friends and supporters have planned a reception in her honor at 5:30 p.m., Wednesday, July 10, at Brae Loch Country Club. Suzi is handling tickets herself. Interested individuals can purchase tickets for $25 per person by calling 847-356-3173.

Larger office

Gearing up for an all-out drive for votes this fall, Congressman Mark Kirk (10th-Ill.) has relocated his campaign office into larger quarters in Northbrook. Visitors are welcome at the office at 330 Melvin. Kirk's campaign address will remain P.O. Box 8, Winnetka, Ill. 60093.

One job

Former County Board Chairman Robert "Bob" Depke, considered the most powerful Lake County politician ever, once held five positions simultaneously. Now that he has retired, Depke holds one appointive position, commissioner of the Illinois Rural Bond Bank. The non-paying job takes him to Springfield for meetings from time to time. Otherwise, Depke is enjoying his role as an elder statesman of county politics.

Mathias, Garrett honored

Rep. Sid Mathias (R-Buffalo Grove) was honored by the Illinois Council of Code Administrators for "his commitment to building safety." Mathias was named the 2002 Legislator of the Year at the organization's annual meeting in Bloomington.

Rep. Mathias was the chief sponsor of legislation this spring which would allow local building, fire and plumbing inspectors to review construction plans for Illinois' public schools and do inspections at key points in the construction process. While municipal and county building officials play an active role in inspections of private schools, as well as Chicago's public schools, under current state law, such officials can be denied access to public schools in suburban Cook County and the rest of the state.

State Rep. Susan Garrett (D-Lake Forest) was honored by the Associated Fire Fighters of Illinois, who paid tribute to her outstanding and continuous support of Illinois fire fighters.

In addition to her history of supporting issues important to fire fighters, the AFFI cited Rep. Garrett's cosponsorship of House Bill 1689, the Fair Promotions Act, as a primary reason for the award. The bill, if passed into law, will reduce testing bias and clarify fire department procedures for handling promotions in fire protection districts and municipalities by making the promotional process more transparent and professional.

Challenging White

Lake County Republican leaders are buoyed by the candidacy of Winnebago County Board Chair Kris Cohn to challenge incumbent Democrat Sec. Of State Jesse White. As a resident of Rockford, they expect Cohn to make frequent campaign appearances in Lake County.

Cohn is serving her second term in Winnebago County, the state's sixth largest county with nearly 1,800 employees and a budget of over $117 million. Since her election in 1996, she has reorganized county administration to facilitate the more effective and efficient delivery of services. Cohn has made recruiting and attracting top notch professionals a high priority. In addition, she has held the line on taxes.

Besides serving as County Board Chairman, Cohn is a former Winnebago County Clerk and Rockford Park District Commissioner. In the private sector, Cohn is a former president of Rockford Recycling Corporation and was a co-owner of the WORKPLACE, a job placement firm.

Like this one: "Dad, I know I wasn't an easy child to live with . . . The great ones never are."

Or this one: "You are the best dad ever. You're so brilliant, so generous, you're always ready to lend a sympathetic ear. You're so nice. Whenever I goof up, you always let me know you love me anyway. So, on Father's Day, I just want to say . . . Keep up the good work."

Father's Day used to be one of those occasions calling for sentimental cards, but as we age and become more sophisticated (allegedly) our greetings go from namby-pamby to smarty-pantsy. And that's more fun.

Father's Day was originated in Spokane, Wash., in 1910, the brainchild of Mrs. John Bruce Dodd, who wanted to honor her dad and dads everywhere. By 1927 it had become a national celebration, the third Sunday in June.

Millions of wonderful words have been written about mothers, and rightly so, but apparently not so much about fathers.

My research did turn up some tributes to dads that probably are worth repeating this weekend.

It was the humorist Mark Twain who said, "When I was a boy of 14, my father was so ignorant I could hardly stand to have the old man around. But when I got to be 21, I was astonished at how much he had learned in seven years."

There's an old German saying: "Becoming a father is easy enough, but being one can be rough."

The famous philosopher Bertrand Russell said, "The place of the father in the modern suburban family is a very small one, particularly if he is a fisherman or a golfer."

My own dad (Jerry Pfarr Sr.) died 26 years ago, back in 1976 at the age of 81, but I feel he's still with me. Especially now that I'm getting older, because the more I age the more I look and act like him.

Glancing in a mirror, sometimes I do a double take because for an instant it seems I just saw my dad.

There's a country-western song that goes like this: "I'm seeing my father in me, that's how it's meant to be... I'm starting to walk the way he walked, and talk the way he talked...."

My four brothers and I were fortunate, we had one of the all-time great dads. His legacy to us was that of a quiet man with a twinkle in his eye, caring, honest and unselfish. He never lost his temper or found it necessary to use profanity.

My dad worked long hours in his gasoline station to get us through the Depression. He seldom had a day or evening off, but when my brothers and I would be competing in a sports event he usually managed to slip away from work. And we would see him watching from the bleachers or sidelines, still in his gas-station coveralls.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Pay raises

I saw where the Sheriff of Lake County was complaining about the small raise he was going to get. A small raise in this day and age is a lot better than many of us have gotten.

I was laid off of my job of 16 years and after being out of work for five months was lucky enough to find another one. The only problem was I had to take a pay cut of almost 40 percent. I know plenty of other people who have had it worse.

It really makes me mad when someone who makes over $100,000 a year is complaining that the raise he is getting is too small. I almost lost my house and ruined my credit. My family has had to make a lot of adjustments and do without a lot of things we used to enjoy and be able to afford.

Penny saving folly

A push pin example of price shopping is ridiculous. The time it would take you to go to Wal-Mart, fight with the traffic to get there, then deal with the absurd amount of people and the enormous lines at the check-outs.

Wal-Mart is notorious for long lines, disheveled stores and not a sales person in sight, compared to the wonderful service all the small stores in Antioch give.

We take pride in the cleanliness and neatness of our stores and the excellent customer service that is provided. You can't buy that anywhere. A true expression of what our town is really about is felt by the pride in ownership and the downtown atmosphere you just feel in any one of our stores. If you need to drive and fight all that craziness to save 20 cents, that is your prerogative, it doesn't mean Wal-Mart needs to be any closer. Those that want to shop Wal-Mart can and will drive the 15 minutes.

Easy tax source

It looks, once again, as though the Fremont School Board will be putting yet another referendum on the November ballot. As usual they are interested in adding to the already high property tax bill presented each year to Fremont's residents.

As usual we can expect the school board to "poor mouth" its situation and place the blame on the overburdened taxpayers. Perhaps it's time for the board to engage in some much needed introspection. But as the board well knows, asking for a tax increase is much less painful, for them, than any introspection.

What creative alternative school funding has the board ever considered? Has it ever, of its own volition, reduced expenses? Has it ever taken its case to the developers for adequate impact fees? Has it ever engaged in a teacher recruitment effort that involves "selling" the Fremont environment to highly qualified teachers rather than trying to compete with the "asphalt jungle" attitude? Has it ever "taken on" the political forces that promised that the lottery and the casinos would relieve much of the school's burden? Has it ever conducted talks with other school districts to see whether a unified concerted effort could result in tapping into those funds that were meant for the schools?

In answer to the above questions, I think not. Why? Because it's so much easier to ask for a property tax increase.

Wal-Mart favoritism?

I'm glad to see that County Board Rep. Larry Leafblad (R-Highland Lake) has taken the initiative to question the sometimes strange and inconsistent way assessments are determined in Avon Township.

A review earlier this year found several residential and commercial properties within Avon Township with substantial assessment reductions. A request for further details explaining these adjustments has been, at best, sketchy and elusive. One in particular I found most interesting.

A parcel (there are two) that belongs to the Wal-Mart store in Round Lake Beach, saw a large reduction in its assessment. According to Avon Township Assessor Dishman; this property was re-evaluated under the income approach. He suggested this most likely was requested by Wal-Mart through a lawyer's filing with the Board of Review (at the county level). The property (772 E. Rollins Road, PIN (0616202003) was reduced in assessment by $251,176—from $1,511,176 to $1,260,000. A property value drop of approximately $836,416.

Now the last time I looked Wal-Mart was doing better than most in the market place. In fact, so well that they are attempting to build another in Antioch. So how does one explain this to those homeowners who've seen their real estate taxes skyrocket?

Easy contest

I read an article on the Wauconda High School 11th Annual Lucky Senior Car Giveaway. I was deeply disturbed by what I read.

The required GPA listed to enter into the drawing is a 2.5. That is less than a B average. Most automobile insurance companies require a B average in order to get a "Good Student Discount." I don't feel that a student who cannot maintain a B average or better should be entitled to participate in a contest to win a FREE car. A car is a privilege. If they cannot be responsible with their studies, they should not be rewarded with a car.

The other two requirements were "have no more than three excused absences for the entire school year," and "participate in at least one extracurricular activity." How simple are these to achieve?

The most disheartening fact in this article was that ONLY 14 students met these requirements. I don't know if this is a reflection on Wauconda High School, the parents, or the students themselves. I am not qualified to make that judgment. My children are 4 and 6-years-old and go to a private school. I have a long way to go until they reach high school. But if only 14 students of a graduating class in our public school system can meet the above mentioned, and quite frankly, easy requirements, then I will continue to keep my daughters in private schools.

What is the real truth behind kids' swearing

PARENT'S PLACE

Dr. Sherri Singer

Hi Dr. Singer,

I'm writing about a stupid segment on the news about kids and swearing. I am watching it as I call you and am losing my faith in this country's parents. What is going on with people in this country that the news feels it is worth a segment of this size to deal with swearing in kids. There is a very easy answer to this and it isn't in giving it a lot of attention. Wanted to get your take since we agree with every piece we have seen you write.

Hi E.R.,

To be honest with you, I haven't watched all of it, but did catch the ads for it and heard some of the thoughts of the people on it including the news people. The main reason I did not watch it is what I heard in the ads and out of the mouths of the people in the ads. I figured it was going to be another one of those "give any excuse for bad behavior-feelings before responsibility or anything else" specials. I also believe there is a simple answer to swearing in kids or any other form of bad behavior in kids and I am also very upset by what I see occurring in our society from coast to coast. From your tone, I assume you agree with me.

This is not rocket science folks and when a news special focuses on paying attention to the "anger" in these kids, or "understanding the anger in these kids," that is supposedly causing the swearing behavior, I scratch my head and wonder what these people are thinking. In the 1950s we didn't have problems with kids like we do today? Ask yourself why! What was different then? Did kids not get angry back then? Did they not respond to things back then? The answer is a clear, "NO!" The difference then was that people were expected to act with certain decorum and within certain limits. If anyone did not act that way, including children, there were serious consequences both from parents and society in the form of teachers, etc. It wasn't that kids didn't get angry then. They just had to find a way to control themselves and their behavior so that they didn't have to face consequences. Consequences were a way of life then and that has almost completely disappeared from our society. It makes me sick, because I believe that when we let a child believe that any behavior is o.k. in the name of being angry or feeling bad, we are undoing that child's future. We are contributing to that child's inability to ever be able to control him or herself ever. I think that is the worst abuse I can imagine possible.

These "feelings first" buffs who think that kids need to talk things out before any consequences are really fooling themselves if they think they are doing anything good for kids. When you take a child who has just been obnoxious and sit down and shower attention on that child in the form of "talking it out," you are letting that child know that the behavior was appropriate and accepted. I always get amazed by these mental health professionals who are confused as to why a child's bad behavior goes on and on and on after lots of talking. It's simple folks. Actions speak louder than words! How many times have we heard that said by our parents and grandparents. When your action is to give lots of attention for bad behavior, your words don't mean squat anymore.

As for kids being angry...I firmly believe that this has absolutely nothing to do with why kids swear or throw things or beat kids up or any other acting out behavior. I believe they do it because they can! Period. Kids are limitless by nature and they depend on adults to limit their behavior. When the adults fall asleep at the wheel and don't do that, kids do anything and everything. It's normal that they do that. What isn't normal is that we seem to have so many adults asleep at the wheel. There is no excuse for not using strict discipline when a child breaks rules in a heinous way. There is also no excuse for adults not putting discipline first and feelings second. You notice, I am not taking the feelings out completely, but if you require a child to first, take responsibility and pay for obnoxious behavior, you will have far more attention paid to the talk afterwards about feelings. If you do it responsibility first, feelings second, you will have a kid who will think twice next time he is going to do the bad thing and more than likely control his or her behavior. If you do it the opposite and let the feelings be first, you have a kid who has absolutely nothing to lose and therefore will continue to do the bad behavior.

The playground got blamed for this swearing thing. Lots of parents talk about how they don't swear in their houses, yet their kids end up swearing to beat the band. Folks, if all of us adults don't get together both at school and home, to stop this insane way of thinking, this will only get worse.

A tomato a day keeps the oncologist away.

That may not be entirely true but it is true that tomatoes, along with many other foods, have been proven to have cancer fighting properties.

In fact, studies have shown that just five servings of fruits and vegetables daily can prevent as much as 20 percent of all cancers. The cancer fighting benefits of proper nutrition apply to those who have been diagnosed and treated for cancer as well.

But keeping proper nutritional habits can be very complicated, especially when challenged with the rigors of traditional cancer treatment. If you add in complications from an unhealthy liver, renal system, or diabetes, the proper roadmap for nutrition gets even a little more gray.

That is why consulting a nutritionist can be just what the doctor ordered. Your one-hour consultation is a phone call away. Kim Dalzell, PhD, RD, LD, is an oncology nutritionist with over a decade of experience in the cancer treatment field. She is the program director for holistic nutrition services at Cancer Resource center in Gurnee.

Architect's concept of courthouse

New court to serve southern Lake County

By KRISTINA ANDERSON
Staff Reporter

When Suzi Schmidt, chairwoman of the Lake County Board and Chief Judge Jane Waller planned the groundbreaking ceremony for the new traffic courthouse in Mundelein, they didn't make alternate plans for the possibility of rain.

"She (Schmidt) said, 'the sun is going to shine on this project,'" said Waller during a speech to kickoff construction for the new building.

Indeed, county officials, judges and fire and police authorities seemed to shine when the first pile of dirt from the new site was shoveled.

On hand as shovel pilots were several county officials and members of the County Circuit Court including Sally Coffelt, circuit court clerk; Margaret Mullen, circuit judge and Bonnie Thomson Carter, chairwoman of the law and Judicial committee. An architect from HLM Design USA of Chicago, also attended the ceremony.

The new South Branch Traffic court is located on the southeast corner of Route 83-60 and Diamond Lake Road in Mundelein will serve the southern one-third of the county, including Barrington, Lincolnshire and Mundelein. Construction budget for the new site is $1.6 million.

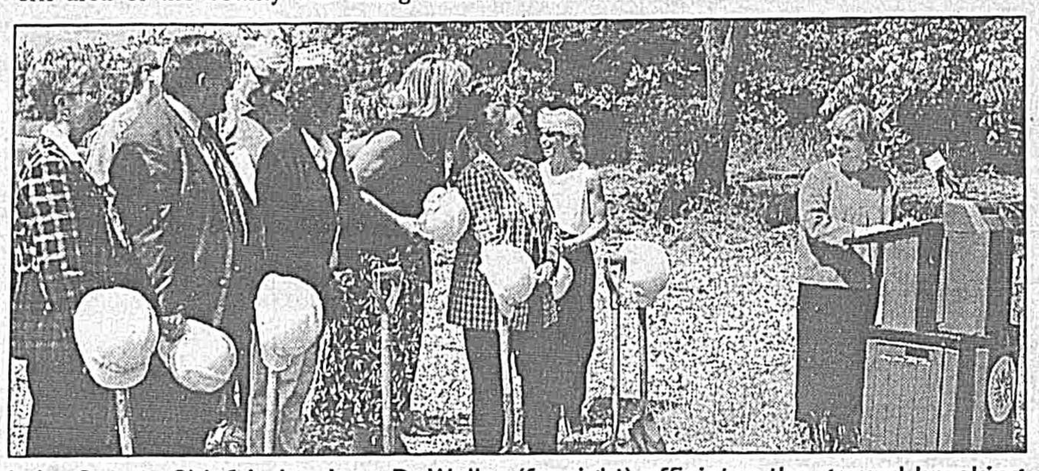

Completion of the new building is scheduled for next summer and cover roughly 7,000 square feet. Hours of operation will be 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Officers from the Sheriff's Office will operate the facility to house one judge, one courtroom and the office of the Lake County Circuit Clerk.

According to Waller, the growth in population provoked county officials to build a new court to serve the rapidly growing south tier of Lake County.

"We decided to take a look at who we were serving, and it was becoming clear the southern area of the county was being underserved," said Waller. "We wanted to expand the court system and make it more accessible."

She said the Mundelein location was chosen over other sites for its close proximity to residents who travel to the Grayslake and Waukegan locations. Waller said the Department of Planning and Transportation conducted travel time studies designed to find a location roughly 25 minutes away for residents living in the southwestern region. In fact, Waller said 40 percent of residents who will be visiting the courthouse are within a 10-mile radius from their homes.

Former Chief Judge Henry Tonigan said the space at the Waukegan Lakehurst location is limited.

"Part of the goal is to provide access to justice, not only to people who receive tickets but communities that interplay with us."

Tonigan said the last time Lake County branch courts have been expanded has been 1983.

Residents, according to Waller, aren't the only ones going to benefit from the new courthouse.

"Local police departments will get a break from driving to Waukegan," she said.

Ray Rose, Mundelein Police Chief, said the new building will save time and money for officers making trips to Grayslake to report traffic violations.

"This is a positive thing for Mundelein," he said. "Out of all the communities, I think Mundelein stands to benefit the greatest."

Coffelt, county circuit clerk, said the county has rented court facilities to settle traffic, ordinance and conservation violations in the past.

"We looked into renovating other buildings, but building the new courthouse was the most affordable," she said.

She said the new building plan accommodates heavy traffic flow and will enable the county to expand onto the original structure for a second courtroom.

"This building is made specially for traffic court. It's the first one the county owns."

Masters of the track

By PAUL KUYAWA
Wilmot Correspondent

Mastering a heavy racetrack with his equally heavy right foot, Jeff Ferkin scored his first A-main victory of the 2002 season at the Wilmot Speedway over the weekend. Ferkin started his assault on the field from the second row and had a spirited duel with early race leader Donald Dodd. Once Ferkin disposed of Dodd, he seemed to have a handle on the victory.

Dodd was not down for the count, as he battled back to within a car length but that is as close as he could get. While these two battled for the lead, Todd Daun, starting last due to engine problems in qualifying, was charging through the field like a tornado. A mid-race caution bunched up the pack and gave Daun a much-needed break to catch the leaders. Daun, from Pleasant Prairie, Wis., moved into the top-5 with 10 laps remaining and soon began challenging for the win.

With Ferkin still leading the way and laps winding down, Daun did away with Dodd and set his sights on Ferkin. With two laps remaining Daun was able to close up to Ferkin's rear bumper.

" I heard somebody coming and I knew I had to step it up a notch, I still had a little left and once I saw his nose it was time go," Ferkin said. As the top two took the white flag it was anyone's race. Vicious first turn flips involving Matt Dworak and Brent Mason saw the race finish under red and checkered flags. Mason was uninjured in the crash, but Dworak was seen looking at his mangled racer sporting ice packs on both knees and his left hand.

"I would have liked to get a shot at Jeff, because our car was really working good, but sometimes that chance never comes. I am happy finishing second considering where we started and the problems we had early in the night," Daun said.

Dodd ran an excellent race to finish behind Ferkin and Daun in third place. Fourth belonged to Mike Dubs with Dave Moulis rounding out the top-5 in the action packed event.

Besides the aforementioned mentioned Dworak and Mason flip, Scott Lenz dumped his mount twice during the night. Lenz went over in his heat, and duplicated the feat in the B-main. Rusty Egan was a flip victim in the B-main. Both drivers were uninjured.

In the IMCA modified feature, Scott Kuxhouse once again prevailed as the victor. Like last week, the Kuxhouse victory was not an easy one. Lee Tibbitts took an early lead and was pressured by Mike Sullivan. Sullivan gained the top spot and appeared to head for victory. With laps winding down Kuxhouse began closing the gap and used lapped traffic to his advantage. Sullivan got crossed up in turn 2 and Kuxhouse snuck by and went on to his third A-main victory in as many tries this year.

Sullivan came home second, followed by Ed Devall, Vince Heywood and Lee Tibbitts. The IMCA Modified feature once again proved to most fans exciting with lots of passing and plenty of action. Soon there may have to be a bounty put on Kuxhouse as he has won all three main events and only losing one heat race all year.

The IMCA Hobby Stock A-main went to Lyle Bottlemy, with point leader Tony Schlei applying serious pressure to Bottlemy on the final lap.

Bottlemy was up to the challenge and scored the victory. Kris Teckert, Kevin Zuchowski and Billy Combs second followed Schlei.

The Wilmot Speedway takes this week off. The 410 sprint cars, IMCA modifieds and IMCA hobby stocks will be back in action on Sat. Night, June 22. The Gumout World of Outlaw Series then invades Wilmot June 29. Tickets are on sale at the track office. For more information you can call the track phone, at 262-862-2446, Winker Engineering at 262-694-0656 or log on to the Wilmot web site at www.wilmotspeedway.com.

Parello wins state judo award

Waukegan's Stephanie Parello, 17, has been awarded the Outstanding State Junior Competitor of the Year Award, 2001, by the United States Judo Association. The USJA is a national governing body for this Olympic sport. Parello's effort at securing a first and second-place showing in nearly 20 tournaments during the past year enabled her to reach the top position of all female judo competitors under the age of 16 in the State of Illinois.

Judo, which originated in Japan, is an Olympic sport similar to wrestling. In a match, age and weight pair two opponents. Competitors grapple head-to-head. Matches last up to three minutes for junior competitors.

Parello, who has completed her junior year at Lake County Baptist School in Waukegan, began judo two years ago at her grandmother's urging. "My grandmother, Betty Anderson, started judo for self-defense. She saw it in the Gurnee Park District brochure and asked if I wanted to try it," she said.

Parello has attended the Gurnee Judo Club since then and has achieved the rank of brown belt. "Judo encourages discipline and helps me outside of the sport. Our coach makes sure our education comes first. Because it's family-oriented, there are role models to talk to," Parello added.

In the classroom, Parello maintains a 4.0 academic standing and also is captain of her school basketball team, which went to state this year. She also holds a position on the volleyball team, which ranked at regionals. Parello works part-time with her parents at the Chicago Tribune Waukegan facility.

Parello's coach, Tim Schultheis of Gurnee, said, "Stephanie is a fierce competitor with a strong fighting spirit. Plus, she is an outstanding scholar and athlete. We are very proud of her accomplishments.

Parello hopes judo will always be a part of her life.

"If I couldn't compete anymore, I'd like to become a referee. I'm already starting to train to become a ref," she said.

Stephanie Parello of Waukegan (right) uses uchi mata, an inner-thigh leg sweep, to throw her opponent for a win at a judo tournament. The 17-year-old has been awarded the United States Judo Association's Outstanding State Junior Competitor of the Year Award.

Gurnee Judo is an offered through the Gurnee Park District. Club members reside in the following communities: Gurnee, Waukegan, North Chicago, Lake Bluff, Libertyville, Spring Lake, Zion and Kenosha, Wisconsin.

The program meets three nights a week at the Kilbourne Grade School Recreational Center. For more information, contact the Gurnee Park District at 847-816-3062.

HIT FROM BEHIND

Whiplash is the effect of sprain and strain in the neck, most often due to having your vehicle rear-impacted by another vehicle. This type of accident characteristically "whips" the neck back and forth (technically termed as hyperextension and hyperflexion of the cervical spine,) thereby injuring nerves. As a result, pain may radiate to the legs or arms. If the resultant loss of the natural curvature of the spine (lordosis) is left untreated, it can lead to a variety of symptoms and health problems (including arthritis) that could have been prevented. Chiropractic treatment of whiplash injury provides pain relief, removes pressure on nerves, and prevents the proliferation of spinal arthritis by normalizing the movement of individual segments of the spine.

At GURNEE CHIROPRACTIC CLINIC, we believe that pain is a very good messenger. It tells us that something is wrong. Back and neck pain come in all degrees, from a brief, mild ache a day after painting the ceiling, to a crippling years-long misery. Let us help you improve your lifestyle with professional chiropractic care. We're located at Hawkston Hall Office Park Centre, 1800 Nations Drive, Suite 101, where we are currently accepting new patients. Please call 847-263-0480 to schedule an appointment. We offer physical therapy, massage therapy, acupuncture, and advanced pain management through our medical doctor.

From there, the player will be presented with about 180 yards over a water-sand bunker, which fronts a big, undulating green. Out-of-bounds lines the right side while a lateral water hazard lines the right from tee-to-green.
Clubhouse amenities: Antioch offers a short-order snack shop that now features pizza and a full bar. Full-line pro shop, locker rooms and showers, as well as a full putting green are also accessible. Outings, lessons and EZ-GO electric carts also available. Banquet facilities can also be rented.
Prices: Weekdays-$24 (cart included); weekends-$42 (cart included). Weekday twilight (after 6 p.m.)-$15, weekends (after 2 p.m.) - $20
Pro's comments: "Antioch G.C. is a diamond in the rough. The course is kept up beautifully, with watered fairways, bent greens and blue grass fairways. The course challenges all skill levels, with three sets of tees offered. Very accommodating with a scenic layout. We also have a driving range facility unrivaled by any golf course in the area"—Vince Juarez

Bonnie Brook G.C.

Address: 2800 N. Lewis Ave., Waukegan
Phone: 847-360-4730
Par: 72
Holes: 18
Yardage: 6,626
Head P.G.A. Pro: Marv Rezabek
Difficulty: Moderate
Easy holes: #8 (par 4, 358), #2 (par 4, 354), #13 (par 4, 310).
Difficult holes: #10 (par 4, 430), #15 (par 4, 430), #16 (par 4, 350), #17 (par 3, 177), #18 (par 4, 410).
Signature hole: #5 (par 5, 545). A beautiful, dogleg left tree-lined par-5 which requires accuracy off the tee. After the tee shot, the ideal second shot would be with a mid-iron, leaving the player with another mid-long iron into the green. Hole #17 also makes a strong statement as Bonnie Brook's signature hole. Only a 177-yard par-3, this little gem can produce a score of five or six at the drop of a hat, with creek lining most of the front and left side of the green and prevailing winds always playing into the equation.
Clubhouse amenities: Bonnie Brook offers a snack bar, open seven days a week, with limited breakfast and lunch items. A new bar and lounge is now available to players. Banquet facilities, outings, and locker room facilities are also available for guests/players to utilize. Players can enjoy a full-service driving range, with lessons also being available.
Price: $23 (Mon.-Thurs., Waukegan residents); $31 (Mon.-Thurs., non-residents). $28 (Fri.-Sun., residents); $37 (Fri.-Sun, non-residents). Carts-$27 for two people at all times. Twilight rates are also available.
Pro's comments: "It's an old course with a lot of mature trees and water on about 10 holes. The rough is usually a factor and always in great shape. Watered fairways with bent grass are also a featured attraction. It is not that long of a course and definitely plays tougher than it looks"—Marv Rezabek

Countryside Prairie & Traditional G.C.

Address: 20800 W. Hawley St., Mundelein
Phone: 847-566-5544
Par: 72-both courses
Holes: 18-both courses
Yardage: Prairie: 7,140 (black), 6,920 (gold), 5,340 (auburn). Traditional: 7.030 (black), 6,890(gold), 5,278 (auburn)
Head P.G.A. Pro: Bill Ebdon
Difficulty: Both courses are moderate
Easy holes: Prairie: #15 (par 3, 151), #8 (par 4, 359). Traditional: #15 (par 3, 121), #6 (par 5, 498)
Difficult holes: Prairie: #7 (par 5, 545), #11 (par 4, 438). Traditional: #5 (par 5, 600), #14 (par 4, 457).
Signature hole: No signature hole has been designated on either course yet, but all are challenging.
Clubhouse amenities: A full snack shop featuring a bar and grille. A supply of balls, shoes, golf bags and some clubs are featured in the pro shop. Driving range facilities, private and group lessons and group outings are just some of the other amenities that make Countryside Prairie & Traditional an excellent pair of courses.
Prices: Lake County residents-$26 weekdays, $16 (after 3 p.m.). $32 weekends and holidays, $22 (after 3 p.m.). Non-residents-$38 weekdays, $25 (after 3 p.m.). Carts-$29 (Mon.-Thurs., residents); $35 (Fri.—Sun., non-residents). Carts are $26 all weekend long.
Pro's comments: "The traditional golf course is a shot maker's course. The course is not as forgiving and yields to the player that can place the ball well. Prairie is the preferred course. It is a more forgiving course with large greens. Errant shots don't cost a player as much. Both courses complement each other well"—Bill Ebdon

Renwood G.C.

Address: 1413 Hainesville Rd., Round Lake Beach
Phone: 847-231-4711
Website: www.renwoodgolf.com
Par: 72
Holes: 18
Yardage: Blue tees: 6,062 yards, White tees: 5,919, Red tees: 5,445
Head P.G.A. pro: Diane Miller. Assistant pro: Mike Perez
Difficulty: Moderate
Easy holes: #8 (par 3, 135), #10 (par 4, 330)
Difficult holes: #7 (par 5, 514), #5 (par 4, 421)
Signature hole: #9 (par 4, 374). A tight driving area with trees on the right and bunkers in the fairway. Out-of-bounds on the left side and behind green also confront players. Approach shot requires accuracy to an undulating green, which is guarded in front by water.
Clubhouse amenities: A new farmhouse-style clubhouse with outside seating opened last summer. Full-service snack shop and bar. Renwood also provides guests/players with an expanded driving range and putting greens. Lessons also available. Bookings are taken up to 11 days in advance.
Prices: Weekdays (resident)-$15; (non-resident)-$22. Weekends (resident)-$22; (non-resident)-$32. Twilight (after 3 p.m.)-weekdays (resident) $12; $16 for non-residents. Weekends (twilight)-$16 for residents, $23 for non-residents. Carts are $13 per person anytime and $9 per person for twilight and for nine holes (any day). Nine-hole rates are also available.
Comment: "The course is in great shape. There's plenty of water and bunkers to challenge players. A good mix of holes with the front nine holes presenting water and larger greens while the back nine portrays narrow fairways, a lot of trees, and postage stamp greens. Definitely a course where some good shot-making is encouraged"—Mike Perez

Friends remember Amos

By STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

Present and former Lake County sports coaches and are remembering with fondness North Chicago's Amos Jones, who passed away at age 74 last week.

"I have known Amos for about 15 years. He was great in football and track. He had some great athletes that played hard and had a lot of class on the field and off,' said Randy Kuceyeski, head varsity football coach at Libertyville High.

Amos Jones

Top players Kuceyeski has seen playing for the Warhawks included Johnny Johnson and Mike Wade. Wade finished fourth in the state in the mile in track and was a standout wide receiver. Johnson would go on to quarterback at the University of Illinois and in the NFL.

Bill Devore, head of the College of Lake County Foundation, has also known Jones for many years.

"I have known Amos as a member of the Keith Ryan Committee. He helped plan the Lake County Hall of Fame banquet each year. He had been a member of our group emeritus," Devore said.

Jones, who served in various capacities at NCCHS, including athletic director, was deeply honored when the football stadium was named in his honor, Devore said.

Steve Wapon, former Antioch head football coach, recalled the great coaching and hospitality that Jones showed when teams came to the school on 17th Street.

"He combined a wonderful talents of coach, administrator, teacher and friend. When you played against Jones coach teams, they always had a lot of energy and competitive spirit. Just coming to North Chicago, I did not know a time when Amos was not there. He had that wide smile," Wapon said.

Wapon knew Jones since he started at Antioch in 1968. He coached football until 1987.

County public works feted

The Lake County Department of Public Works' Des Plaines River Water Reclamation Facility was recently awarded "Best Operated Wastewater Treatment Plant of the Year" in the State of Illinois.

Only five facilities were nominated from a group of similar facilities statewide in the Group 1 category, which is for facilities that treat more than one million gallons of wastewater daily.

The award is presented in each of five categories, with categories being separated according to facility size and treatment process type.

Officials from the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency nominated the Des Plaines River Water Reclamation Facility for the award.

The purpose of the award is to emphasize the relationship between adequate wastewater treatment and clean receiving water and to give public recognition and encouragement to communities, their officials and the personnel who have operated their wastewater facilities in an especially effective manner.

The Des Plaines River Facility is located in unincorporated Vernon Township, serving approximately 100,000 Lake County residents. Communities served by this facility include Buffalo Grove, Kildeer, Lake Zurich, Lincolnshire, Long Grove, Riverwoods and several unincorporated subdivisions.

The facility is sized to treat 16 million gallons of wastewater daily, or nearly 4 million toilet flushes, and incorporates tertiary processes, which produce high-quality treated water. Prior to discharge into Aptakisic Creek, the plant routinely removes up to 98 percent of the water pollutants.

Fagan's bid begins

A reception to benefit the campaign of Chuck Fagan, Democratic candidate for Lake County Sheriff, will be held on Thursday, June 27, from 5:30 to 9 p.m., at the Ramada Inn, on Green Bay Road in Waukegan.

The public is invited and tickets are $50 per person. Sponsorships are available.

For more information, call Peter Couvall at 847-623-1300.

What . . . When . . . Where . . .

What: Seniors Day Celebration. Known as the oldest and largest senior appreciation day.

When: Wednesday, June 19, 9 a.m.-4 p.m. Rain or shine.

Where: Lakewood Forest Preserve (near Wauconda), a sprawling, exceptionally maintained preserve that readily holds 7,000 visitors in its spacious fields, clean picnic ground and scenic environment.

How: General event updates are available 24 hours a day. Seniors Day Hotline 847-968-3333 or visit www.LCFPD.org.

What to Bring: Although refreshments/snacks are available, we encourage visitors to bring a sack lunch.

Seniors Day is a long-standing Lake County Forest Preserves tradition. The yearly celebration began in 1972, behind the efforts of Forest Preserve Commissioners and Lake County Board members, as part of a statewide recognition of seniors and their contributions. Formerly known as "Senior Citizens Recognition Day", the event is rumored to have been the first of its kind in the country.

The plan for the day has not changed much in the past 30 years, though the size has grown immensely. Participants get all gussied up, pack a picnic lunch, grab a lawn chair and head out to Lakewood Forest Preserve near Wauconda for the party.

The musical entertainment has always been the centerpiece of the festivities. In the early years, half a dozen or more bands would play, ranging from an Army/Navy concert band to local "kitchen" bands.

"Old standbys" include bingo, a horseshoe tourney, the King and Queen contest, and the all-day-long free raffle. Past events have included a fishing tournament and boat rides, when the Celebration was located at a smaller picnic area at Lakewood next to a pond. Newer additions include the Information and Sponsor Pavilions. There, senior-related businesses and organizations host information booths and free services and giveaways like blood pressure screening and take-home gift items.

Over 6,000 guests ages 55 and better are expected to attend this year. Much of the cost of the event, including the food and entertainment, is underwritten by Golden Sponsors First Midwest Bank, Walgreens and Mesirow Financial and Silver Sponsors Lakeland Media and Lake Forest Hospital. Without their generous support as well as that of the Forest Preserve Commissioners and staff who work at the event, Seniors Day would not be possible

Seniors Day 2002 kings and queens announced

For Seniors Day 2002, a well-deserving pair of Kings and Queens will be crowned at the special ceremony on June 19. The Kings are Matt Miholic and Jerry Stoller. Sophie Hansen and Jessie Cymonowski will both be crowned Queen on Seniors Day.

Miholic, as chairman of the Special Events committee in 1972, helped plan what he thought would be a "little picnic for the seniors". Thirty years later it has grown into a huge event that many seniors enjoy.

In 1986, Miholic was elected to be the first Vice President of the Lake County Forest Preserve Board of Commissioners. While he served as vice president he was the Chairman of the Law and Judicial Committee and Planning and Development Committee. He also served on the Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission.

"I knew there were a lot of seniors in Lake County and they deserved a day for themselves," said Miholic.

Matt Miholic was born on April 12, 1926 and is a life-long Illinois resident. His family includes his wife Dorothy, three children and four grandchildren.

A few hobbies are gardening and golf. He hopes for a beautiful day and thinks it will be nice to see all his friends again.

The next king is Jerry Stoller. Stoller has attended Seniors Day for several years. Stoller participates as an event volunteer. He prides himself for being the first to say hello as you get off the bus, and the last to wave goodbye as you leave. His favorite thing about Seniors Day is "making people smile."

Jerry Stoller was born on July 14, 1937. He previously lived in Rochester, NY but has lived in Long Grove for the past 14 years. He says Long Grove is his "favorite city in the world." Jerry has been employed by McDonald's Restaurant in Vernon Hills for the past 10 years. He has also volunteered at Vernon Hills High School.

One of the queens, Sophie Hansen is a "lively lady" in her own words. She has attended every Seniors Day since 1972. She and her friends decided to go to the first Seniors Day because it was something to do, and she didn't live too far from the Lakewood Forest Preserve.

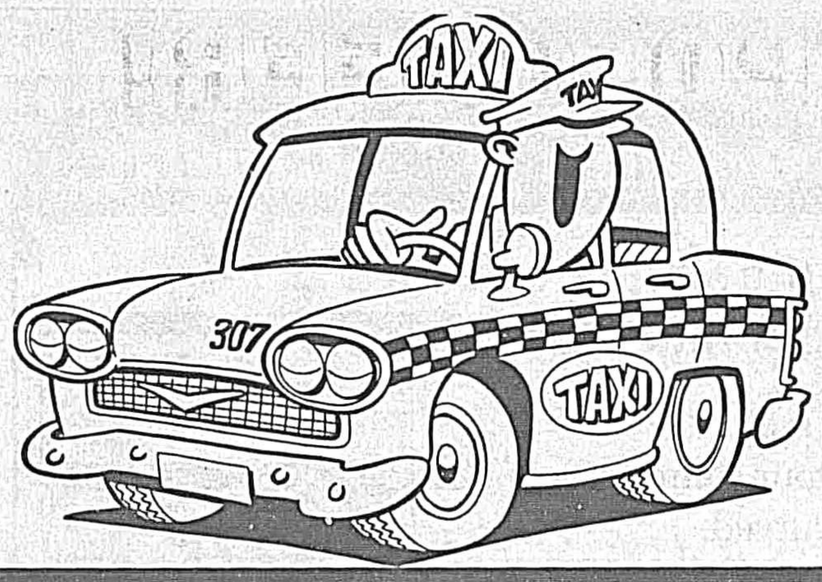

"I think it's wonderful that people from all over come to Seniors Day. It's just jolly that people in nursing homes can take the bus to Seniors Day," said Hansen.

She is looking forward to being crowned Queen. She has admired the queens every year and thought that being Queen was a dream she'd never realize.

Hansen feels like life begins at 80. She celebrated her 80th birthday on June 5. She feels like she can go forward without caring what people think of her. For other activities she dances once a week and has been awarded prizes for dancing.

The second queen is Jessie Cymonowski. Her grandchildren nominated her to be a queen as a gift for her hundredth birthday. Cymonowski has two living sons, six grandchildren and seven great grandchildren.

Although, she is partially blind, she lives on her own and keeps very busy with family and friends. She complains her family never calls or stops in, but in reality she is never home! Her family wants her to be Queen in order to show their grandmother that they appreciate her very much.—by Megan Loiselle

The 16-piece band is comprised of mostly retired musicians from as far north as Racine to the Northern Chicago area.

The featured afternoon entertainment this year is the 17-piece John Burnett Swing Orchestra. They play from 12:30 to 4 p.m.

The John Burnett Swing Orchestra specializes in all forties style big band swing, keeping alive the sounds of Glenn Miller, Tommy Dorsey, Benny Goodman, Count Basie and others. Amateur acts needed for County Fair

BY KRISTINA ANDERSON
Staff Reporter

As the saying goes, everyone gets 15 minutes of fame. Although Lake County singers, dancers and other entertainers are limited to four-minute acts, they are sure to savor a small amount of fame at the 2002 Lake County Fair Amateur Talent Contest.

John Lynn, director of the contest and founder of the Kirk Players in Mundelein, said the contest is open to anyone who wants the chance to showcase their talent.

"It gives anyone who wants to perform the opportunity to perform on stage in public," he said. "It's always good to get in front of people and perform."

Lynn, who organized the first talent contest in 1984, considers the competition an exhilarating way to boost confidence while strengthening a resume. Past acts include a ventriloquist, lyrical dancer and cabernet singer.

Contest participants are divided into three categories: juniors (through age 14), seniors (ages 15-21) and adults (over age 21). During the preliminary contest, 10 acts from each division are selected, advancing to the finals as the entertainment on the main stage during Fair Week. Winners from each division with the exception of adults compete at the state competition in Springfield on January 18, 2003.

Each division winner receives $150, second-place winners are awarded $100, and a minimum of $25 is given to each finalist.

Lynn said Lake County is one of the only that feature adult acts during Fair Week. He said although there is no state level competition for an adult division, he encourages people of all ages to participate. In fact the youngest performer was a three-year-old girl who sang a song from "The Little Mermaid" and the oldest performers have exceeded the age of 70.

Last year's junior division champion, 14-year-old Amanda Williams of Round Lake came in 9th place and eight dancers from the Royal Academy in Lake Villa, senior division winners, placed 6th among 45 other county acts.

Lynn urges performers to make plans to participate before summer is in full swing.

"It just tears my heart out when I hear someone say, 'I hear there's a talent show,' and it's two weeks after the show," Lynn said.

According to Lynn, performers must reside in Lake County and cannot participate in more than one act of the same genre. Lynn selects five judges from the area who rank entries on a 50-point scale: 25-ability, 15-presentation, 5-costume and 5-audience appeal/appreciation.

Performers or groups interested in getting on stage should contact Lynn for an entry form by calling the Kirk Players. Preliminaries for the junior division is Saturday, July 20 at 1 p.m. and senior and adult divisions are held on Sunday, July 21 at 1 and 4 p.m. Finals are showcased on the county fair main stage on July 26 (juniors), 27 (seniors) and 28 (adults).

Three of a kind

The current Miss Libertyville pageant queens are: Miss Libertyville Jamie Stock; Junior Miss Kaitlyn Williams; and Little Miss Morgan Gawlik. This year's pageant is June 19, at 7 p.m., at the College of Lake County auditorium. Admission is $3 per person.

Additions create one of county's largest woods

Two additions to Grant Woods Forest Preserve near Lake Villa and Fox Lake will create one of the largest Forest Preserves in Lake County and protect important wetlands and woodlands.

Purchase of adjoining 24.2-acre and 120-acre properties at a combined cost of $3,795,000, was approved by the Lake County Forest Preserve Board of Commissioners at their April meeting. It marks the 17th acquisition made using funds from the successful, voter-approved November 2000 referendum. The acquisition increases the total acres of Forest Preserves in Lake County to 24,014 acres.

Forest Preserve Commissioners also approved an agreement with Lake Villa Township for a conservation deed restriction on 8.8 acres that the township will buy adjacent to the new Forest Preserve lands, located east of Fairfield Road and south of Grand Avenue (Route 132).

The township also will provide a trail easement through their existing township property on the east side of Fairfield Road that will permit the Forest Preserve District to eventually connect the new addition to the main part of Grant Woods Forest Preserve. The township plans to use their new property for sports fields.

It's not too late for your summer garden

By LAURA HAMPTON

"Traditionally, Memorial Day weekend has been the start of the planting season," said Marti Leider, owner of Leiders Garden Greenery Inc.

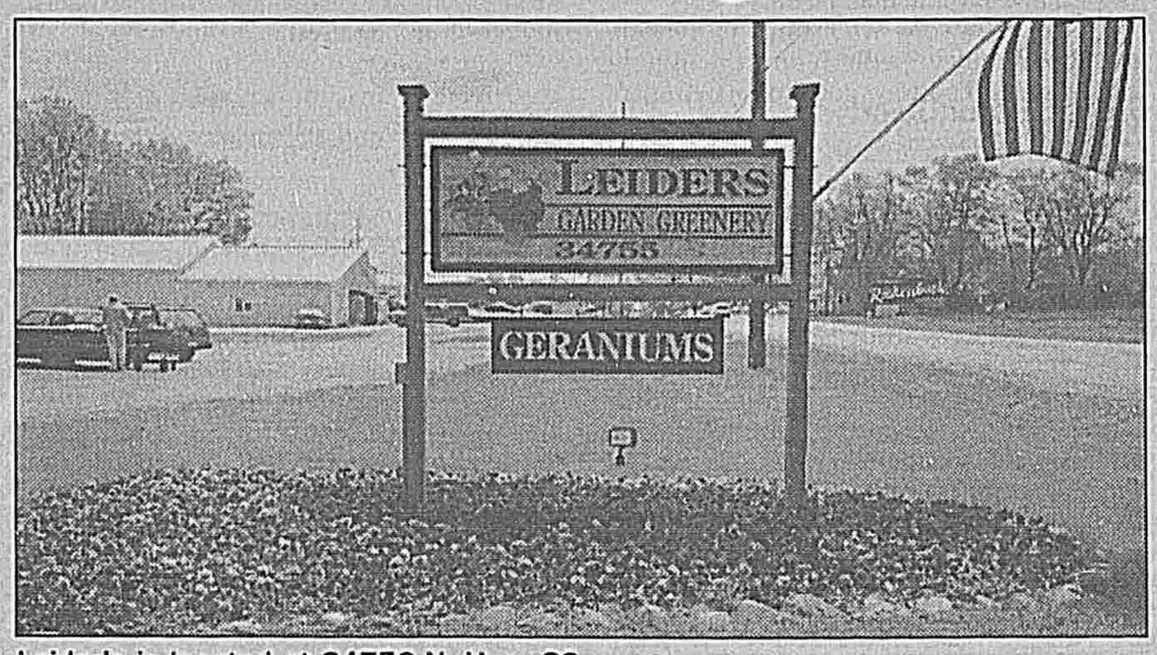

This is good news for those who have either procrastinated working in their garden or were simply discouraged by the cool spring weather.

Based on how busy the store is, people are not wasting anymore time preparing their yards with summer plants and flowers.

Marti expertly answers customer's questions and directs them through the large Leider's seeds, Thompson Morgan seeds, vegetables, annuals, and perennials. Most of the local area has clay soil which requires some extra tending to in order to have success at growing anything.

Marti recommends putting down new top soil and either peat moss or an organic mushroom compost. And of course, good drainage is essential for any garden.

It is impossible not to notice the rows and rows of beautiful hanging baskets and flats that fill the greenhouse. One item that has become very popular over the last few years is combination baskets, which come in both sun and shade varieties.

Leider's is located at 34756 N. Hwy. 83.

Leider's plants are all home grown and cared for by an expert crew.

The exceptional health of the plants is also very evident to anyone shopping in the greenhouse. This is due to the fact that all the plants are home grown and cared for by an expert crew. The difference between plants that have been shipped in is striking. With home grown plants, there is no time for them to dry out or become damaged.

The sales staff is also very knowledgeable. The same employees have been there for years. Additional help is hired in the spring, but even the spring hires return year after year. Marti also employs professional container landscapers. These landscapers provider a unique service to customers. Customers can drop off containers they want filled with plants and flowers and the landscapers will do all the work.

The greenhouse is open year round, as planting needs change with the season. autumn is the time for garden mums and planting bulbs that will bloom the following spring. During the holiday season, the store sells poinsettias and every January and February, Leiders has a house plant sale.

The greenhouse has been open in Grayslake for 28 years and is located at 34756 N. Hwy. 83. For more information, contact 847-223-2422 or check out the website at www.leidersplants. com.

Power plant sound impact debated by Indeck, engineer

By MARC JENKINS
Staff Reporter

The proposed peaker power plant was further discussed at Marytown in Libertyville, as Indeck Energy Services Attorney Gerald Callaghan questioned the findings of engineer Howard Schecter.

Indeck is proposing the construction of a 300 megawatt power plant at Rte. 137 and Harris Rd. The company is also trying to obtain a zoning regulation change and a special use permit, which would allow them to operate the plant.

Schecter was hired by a group representing the Prairie Crossing development in Grayslake, which sits adjacent to the proposed site. He informed the Libertyville Plan Commission that there would be less sound impact if the plant were built in downtown Libertyville, rather than the proposed site. According to his findings, there will be more sound impact at the Harris Rd. location due to lower levels of background noise.

"I don't think that the state regulation is very protective of this type of environment," Schecter said. Currently, Illinois law has noise restrictions in nine octave band ranges, which have been in effect since 1972. He also learn that some individuals may be able to hear low and middle frequency sounds that may be emitted by the plant.

"Everyone's hearing response will change with aging," he claimed. Schecter then suggested that the plan commission form a noise committee, allowing them to enact their own octave band guidelines.

"It should be at least 8-10 dB [decibels] less than what the state regulates," he advised the plan commission. "You have a golden opportunity to do something."

Callaghan then began directing a series of questions toward him, frequently referring to Schecter's own documents. He asked Schecter if he realized that Indeck had guaranteed to be two decibels lower than state standards in every octave band. Callaghan also showed slides to illustrate his points.

Schecter was asked if he had ever

Annexation approved for Kildare properties

By MARC JENKINS
Staff Reporter

The Libertyville Village Board unanimously approved the annexation of 1724, 17460 and 17482 W. Kildare Ave., adjacent to the Wherberry subdivision.

However, several points of the annexation agreement were debated by officials and residents before being approved.

Kildare Ave. will be relocated 70 feet north of its current location, and all trees destroyed in the construction will be replaced in a 2-1 ratio. One of the biggest issues facing the board was where to put a gate on Sunnyview Dr., which would allow four new homes to be accessed solely through the Wherberry Subdivision. Residents attended the meeting to discuss this issue, as well as the improvement of Sunnyview Dr.

Community Development officials wanted the petitioner, Wertchek Builders, to improve all portions of Sunnyview Dr. included in the annexation agreement. Trustee David Giza suggested that the developer share the cost of road improvements with the unincorporated area. The costs would be divided based upon traffic counts, and other issues.

"[That is] not something I really embrace, Dave," commented Mayor Duane Lasky.

"It's not something I expected you would," responded Giza.

Also debated was a "hammerhead" turnaround for cars ignoring the dead end sign on Sunnyview Dr. Resident Joe Allessi lives at the end of

Fifth-grader earns chance to fill superintendent's shoes for an hour

By MARC JENKINS

Rockland School fifth-grader Tyler Peacock wrote a letter to Libertyville Elementary District 70 Superintendent Mark Friedman, claiming he could do his job. So for an hour, Friedman let him.

"This guy thought he'd shoot for the top," Friedman said. "A great young kid."

Peacock, who just turned 11, was principal for a day at his school last year. He made sure he let Friedman know of his prior experience when he sent him the request.

Letter Carriers to collect food for local food pantries May 13

The National Association of Letter Carriers will conduct its eighth annual Food Drive on May 13. The letter carriers will collect non-perishable food donations along their mail routes. This national food drive is the largest one-day collection of food in the nation.

"All the non-perishable food items go to the Libertyville Township food pantries," said Libertyville Postmaster Jerry Hoglund.

According to Hoglund, last year his letter carriers collected 6,000 pounds of food. He also noted that this is the time of year that food pantries start to "run dry."

"It's the letter carriers themselves that are behind that," Hoglund said. "It's a wonderful way for the postal service to show that they care and to give something back to the community," said Mary Connolly-Cardwell, postmaster for the Mundelein and Vernon Hills branches.

"It really is a painless way for residents to do something good for the community," Connolly-Cardwell said.

The letter carriers of Branch 409 collected over 80,000 pounds of food in Lake County in 2001. Last year nearly 1,400 NALC branches, involving over 100,000 letter carriers, in over 10,000 cities and towns, collected more than 58 million pounds of food. All food collected goes to food pantries located in the community in which it is donated.

NALC President Vincent Sombrotto has said that for millions of Americans who are hungry, the only opportunity for their family to have a good meal is from their local food pantry. Generous donations are desperately needed as many of the food pantries are virtually empty at a time when it is needed most. The need is great in the summer when children are out of school and do not have access to the lunch programs offered by their schools.

The May 13 food drive is being sponsored by local NALC branches, including Rodney Graham Branch 409 in Waukegan, in conjunction with the U.S. Postal Service Priority Mail, Campbell's soup, the AFL-CIO, the United Way, and the food pantries located in every community. The National Association of Letter Carriers is especially grateful to the United States Postal Service whose Priority Mail Division is generously sponsoring the printing of nearly 100 million full-color postcards that will feature the special "Family Circus" cartoon created by Bil Keane to help promote the drive.

This year Rodney Graham Branch 409 will be assisted by the Girl Scouts and other United Way volunteers as they collect donations at the Jewel Food Stores located at Grand and Greenbay Rd., and the store at Yorkhouse and Lewis. This expansion of the drive is intended to assist the pantries at Catholic Charities and the Christian Outreach of Lutherans (CCOOL) who operate the two largest food pantries in Lake County. Carriers will also be at the Jewel in Antioch and the Piggly Wiggly in Grayslake to stock those local pantries.

"Please remember that hunger doesn't take a summer vacation. Your food donation on May 13 can help a pantry in your town at that critical time when winter holidays are long past, school hot lunch programs have closed, and PADS shelter sites have closed. That's when pantries tell us that their demand goes way down, their supply of food goes way down. Some people may not realize that hunger exists in Lake County—it does exist in every town of the county and we know that it hurts Lake County's children the most. Families suffer from hunger when the breadwinner's wages can't cover all the basic expenses or an unforeseeable tragedy strikes. Items that pantries need most include canned meats like tuna or chicken, peanut butter, jelly, macaroni and cheese mix, spaghetti sauce, canned juice, pancake mix and syrup."

Whether your business is doing well or slower than normal, you have to get your share of whatever business is around. Cutting back your advertising puts you at a disadvantage the very moment you need an edge to increase your sales. Increasing your advertising gives you the edge.

In these times of uncertainty, shoppers are careful and a little reluctant to spend. They want information. One of the main ways they get information about products, services, prices and values is from advertising. Yours or somebody else's. Here's a hard fact to chew on. Over any given period, a business that advertises below average has sales that are below average.

Advertising is news about products and services. Most consumers look for this kind of news in the pages of their community newspaper. In plush times, retailers often experiment with other media. But when the going gets tough, they concentrate their efforts in Lakeland Newspapers because it provides immediate payoff at the cash register.

ATTENTION PET OWNERS
We Do Not Knowingly Accept Ads For Free/Giveaway Animals
If you must give up your beloved pet, please consider these suggestions.
*Free animal ads suggest that there is something wrong with the animal, or that it has no value.
*Some people who respond to these free animal ads are imposters and are only concerned about making a profit and not the animal's welfare.
*Charging a fee to a potential pet owner confirms the responsibility of pet ownership for an entire lifetime of that pet. For more information, please contact the Humane Society.
